REVOLUTION IN RUSSIA CAN BE BUT SHORT ONE

—Declares Trotsky

Mutiny Will Soon Collapse Despite Armed Forces.

FIRST INTERVIEW

Says Trouble Caused By Political Parties With No Standing.

Moscow, March 11.—By wireless to Berlin, March 16.—"The Kronstadt mutiny will soon have collapsed regardless of the fact that the mutineers possess heavy artillery," declared Leon Trotsky, Peoples Commissar for war in the Russian soviet government, who arrived here today from the "Petrograd front," where he has been directing the operation of red troops against the rebels.

Trotsky was in front of General staff headquarters on his way to confer with Generals of the army when he was interviewed for the International News Service. This is the first interview Trotsky has given out since the uprising occurred at Kronstadt, and because of his position in the cabinet, it is of the utmost importance.

Trotsky said: Situation Clear. "It is impossible to understand the Kronstadt events unless taken in conjunction with our internal and external situation. Our economic situation after six and one half years of war is well known. We have published frank statistical statements. We do not consider it necessary to conceal our actual conditions from our workers, from our country, or from our friends, and our enemies, in other countries.

"Quite naturally those parties, which two or three times before gave demonstration of their bankruptcy should try to revive themselves by exploiting conditions of the present moment of the workers revolution. I am speaking of social revolutionaries and mensheviks who, unable to play an independent role, are unable to obtain or maintain themselves in power. They have considerable social foundation. They are trying to be the banana peel on which the working class would slip into counter revolution against the soviets.

Personnel Changes. "As to the rising, the Baltic fleet represents that part of our country most exposed to Europe. During the past two years the personnel of the fleet had changed greatly. The best elements were taken out and transferred to other branches of soviet work and were supplanted by casual elements among which were many representatives of our border nationalities who regarded their service in fact as temporary work. The transitory conditions and unstable personnel of the fleet created an unfavorable atmosphere and gave opportunity for smuggling into the fleet elements that were openly hostile.

"The masses of sailors formulated demands which originally did not exceed the demands presented by various groups of laborers to the soviet government. The revolutionaries utilized these demands as a fulcrum for their lever. Behind their backs purposely emerged the figures of revolutionary officers.

Keep on Working. "The broad masses of the Kronstadt proposition kept on working without understanding the acuteness of the conflict. Kronstadt being located upon the gulf of Finland stands at the gateway from which the imperialist highways lead to the imperialist countries. At Reval the white guard officers became active. The counter revolutionary agents in the Baltic at once began to establish a contact with Kronstadt. The original leaders of the movement became badly frightened and began to complain of the growing influence of the counter revolutionary military officers, but then it was too late.

"Quite obviously after the ice is gone from the gulf of Finland the counter revolutionaries could remove our vessels and deliver them into the hands of the imperialists as they did in the Black Sea if the Baltic fleet fell into the hands of the rebels.

Knowing this we presented an ultimatum to the mutineers and then applied armed force. There is no doubt that the mutiny will have collapsed within a short time regardless of the fact that the mutineers possess heavy artillery."

THREE ACES AND PAT FLUSH START FATAL SHOOTING
Fremont, Neb., March 16.—Richard Dunkle held three aces in a poker game and thought that was enough to win the pot. Ross Wickersham, however, laid down a pat flush and raked in the winnings.

Dunkle was so enraged, a witness testified at the trial of Dunkle for the slaying of Wickersham that he started an argument which resulted in the fatal shooting of the winner.

EXPECT JURY WILL GET HAMON CASE EARLY THURSDAY

Prosecution Will Not Ask Death Penalty, Announced.

Ardmore, Okla., March 16.—"We will not ask the death penalty for Clara," Attorney General Freeling publicly confirmed today for the first time.

Both the prosecution and defense expect to finish their rebuttal evidence today.

"It looks now as if the case will go to the jury tomorrow," said Attorney General Freeling.

Sam Blair, newspaper correspondent, who found the accused woman in Mexico, probably will be the first witness called by the state this morning.

The usual crowds were seeking entrance to the court room long before court opened.

Attorneys for both prosecution and defense announced they expect to close rebuttal evidence before afternoon. Court may then adjourn, they say, to prepare instructions to the jury.

In their opinion, the case will go to the jury some time tomorrow afternoon. Three attorneys for the defense will make arguments to the jury. Attorney General S. Price Freeling and Special Prosecutor Brown will argue for the prosecution.

Not even the prosecution looks for conviction. The general opinion is that there will be an acquittal or a hung jury.

ARMENIAN CONFESSES

Followed Former Official From Constantinople To Berlin.

Berlin, March 16.—Talaat Pasha, former Turkish minister, who was assassinated yesterday, died as the result of a murder pact entered into more than a year ago according to a confession made to the police today by Salomon Teitlian, the young Armenian, who fired the fatal shot.

"I swore a solemn oath that I would kill Talaat Pasha whom I held to be responsible for much of the suffering of my fellow people," said the assassin. "I made solemn oath to call down the bloody vengeance of heaven upon his head. I was prepared to follow him around the world. He could not escape me no matter what city he went to nor what disguise he used to cover his identity. I knew that his heart's blood belonged to me and I only waited for the sacrifice. Talaat Pasha signed a decree which resulted in a massacre of Armenians and my mother and father were killed by Turkish soldiers. Is it any wonder that I held this grudge.

"Talaat Pasha disappeared from Constantinople but I had my own sources of information and I learned that he was in Berlin. I secured a passport—no matter how—and I came here. I frequented the Turkish quarter and it did not take me long to find out that the old enemy of my family was living here, under an assumed name. He lived very quietly and went out but seldom. He feared assassins. It was in January that I arrived here. I took my time and planned the murder carefully. I was not going to allow all my plans to be spoiled by one false step. Everything came out just as I ordered it."

Teitlian said he was born at Salaman, Persia.

The prisoner was badly beaten by a crowd after the shooting and sustained severe injuries in the head but will recover.

REVOLUTION REPORTS ARE EXAGGERATED

PETROGRAD NOT BOMBED SAY RED-CROSS WORKERS FROM DISTRICT

Paris, March 16.—Reports of the counter revolution at Petrograd were exaggerated, according to a Havas dispatch from Helsingfors today. An American Red Cross worker who visited the fortress of Kronstadt to deliver food reported that there were about 50,000 insurgents in the Petrograd district but that contrary to previous reports, Petrograd had not been bombed.

The chief hope of the insurgents was that the people of Petrograd would join the insurrection.

Feeling Reaches Fever Heat As Hamon Case Nears End

Death Threats Have Been Passed, and Principals Go About Armed In Ardmore—Court Room Jammed As Evidence Is Nearly Completed.

Courtroom, Ardmore, Okla., March 16.—Ardmore sat on a powder keg today as the Clara Smith Hamon murder trial was resumed.

"Bad blood" starting at yesterday's demonstration for the woman accused of Jake L. Hamon's murder, reached a fever heat as court reconvened today.

Death threats have been passed. Lawyers, principals and even newspaper correspondents have been warned to go about fully armed. Deputy sheriffs wearing huge guns on their hips, are stationed carelessly about the courtroom, but with a cool intent of having "good shooting" angles.

All out of town persons who have had any connection with the trial are preparing to leave on the first train out after the verdict.

The death threats were received by Jake Hamon, 18 year old son of the head oil king, and the brothers of the accused woman.

Murder fans were tense with excitement when court opened.

"It was the hardest thing I have ever had to go through and I'm so relieved it's all over," said Clara Smith Hamon on entering the courtroom. She referred to the four hours she spent on the witness stand.

"Oh, it was only all over!"

The love letters of Jake Hamon to Clara were barred from evidence by Judge Thomas W. Champion this morning. Attorney General S. P. Freeling objected to their admission on the ground that the dead man could not be called as a witness to explain them.

When court opened at 9 o'clock the room was jammed as usual. The feminine part of the audience displayed the latest spring styles in millinery.

Many had been sitting in the courtroom since 6 o'clock and had brought their breakfasts.

On the opening of court, Sam Blair, the newspaperman who found the accused woman in Mexico, was the first witness called by the state in rebuttal.

CEDARVILLE WOMAN MEETS INSTANT DEATH WHEN CRUSHED BY HEAVY FARM WAGON

Miss Dora Glass, Victim Of Unusual Accident On Brother's Farm

Caught between a heavy farm wagon and the barn, while she was assisting in manipulating the vehicle into the building, Miss Dora Glass, 45, of seven miles northeast of Cedarville, was horribly crushed and died instantly, at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Glass, was assisting her brother Frank, who had just brought in a load of corn, in getting the wagon backed into the barn. She was driving the horses from the ground beside the wagon. As one wheel struck the barn floor, it seems that the wagon veered, and the horses carried it around against the side of the barn pinning Miss Glass between the vehicle and the side of the barn.

Death was immediately due to a broken neck, which the unfortunate woman sustained. She was horribly crushed by the heavy wagon, however, her jaw bone being split, her skull fractured, her chest crushed and both ears practically torn off. Her brother, Frank, was a witness to her death, but was unable to avert the accident that caused it.

Miss Glass was born near Jamestown but had spent most of her life near Cedarville. She was the daughter of J. W. Glass, well known farmer in that section, who survives with three sisters and three brothers, her mother being dead. The surviving brothers and sisters are Mrs. Raleigh Davis of Bowersville, George W. Glass of Cedarville, Elmer of Springfield, and Frank, Misses Daisy and Grace at home. She was a member of the Church of Christ at Gladstone, and had hosts of friends in the vicinity.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the late home, and burial will be made at Jamestown.

REPARATION BILL PASSES.
London, March 16.—The house of commons passed the second reading of the reparations bill without division.

CAUCUS OF REPUBLICAN HOUSE MEMBERS AGREES TO PASS DUNN MEASURE

Bill To Reorganize State Departments, To Become Law Immediately.

MUST PASS SENATE

Citizens' Taxation Committee Report Transmitted To Legislature

Columbus, O., March 16.—In caucus, Republican house members agreed to pass the Dunn bill, reorganizing the state departments, in the form in which it is reported by the house reorganization committee. It is understood that the measure is to be passed Friday and that it will contain an emergency clause making it effective as law as soon as it passes the senate and is approved by Governor Davis.

The bill will be subject of committee hearings in the senate it is said.

Complying with the governor's request the house will reduce the number of departments to eight and from nine by eliminating the proposed department of examinations.

Urges New Policy.

Declaring that adoption of a pay-as-you-go policy in state, city, county and other political subdivisions "is imperative" and stating that continuation of the present plan of taxation in Ohio would mean "our complete forgetfulness and disregard of our responsibilities to posterity and the passing of a crushing debt problem" Governor Davis transmitted to the state legislature copies of the report made to him by his recent citizens' taxation committee.

The governor's committee recommended submission of a proposed amendment to the state constitution abolishing the uniform rule of taxation, providing for tax limitations on real estate and requiring enactment of an income tax.

Expressing hope that the present legislature will try to provide a satisfactory remedy for Ohio's taxation ills, the governor said that ineffectiveness of the prevailing taxation system is due to failure to enact a debt limitation law when the Smith 1 percent law was passed to increased cost of labor and operating expenses in government and to failure to enforce the uniform rule.

Refer Resolution.

The senate has referred to its rules committee the Crabbe joint resolution, unanimously adopted by the house last week, providing for sine die adjournment on March 31.

Senator Whittemore, Akron, Republican floor leader, announced that "the senate will stay on the job and consistently perform the duties entrusted to it." He said the house members know it is impossible to give proper consideration in the senate by March 31 to the important measures which the upper legislative branch will be called upon to pass.

Defeating the emergency clause, the house, by a vote of 91 to 13, passed the McCoy bill prohibiting exhibition of immoral motion pictures and movies depicting any form of crime. The bill goes to the senate.

MACHINERY OF NEW PUMPING STATION TESTED

Pumps Set in Operation Tuesday For First Time.

STARTS ON MONDAY

Fresh Supply Will Be Sent To Consumers Next Week.

Xenia's new water pumping station at the municipal water works at Old Town was baptized Tuesday afternoon, with the first draught of the new supply that spells for Xenia pure and fresh water in place of the chlorine-loaded water that citizens have had to bear for several years.

In the presence of a gathering composed of City Commissioners and other officials, engineers and interested citizens, the new electric pumps were set to work shortly before two o'clock pulsing with the new and abundant supply that means emancipation for Xenia citizens from the semi-contaminated water of the past.

Wednesday morning, workmen began to clean out the stand pipe, which because of the low water supply from the two old stations, has not been cleaned out for some time. The big tank will be emptied and thoroughly cleaned out and then filled with the new water. The new water supply also makes possible the flushing of the city mains and all fire plugs and ead ends will be opened and the lines thoroughly flushed.

Next Monday, the new water supply will be started permanently, and with the mains and the stand pipe cleaned out, the first strikes of the pumps in the new station, will mean that within a few hours, all trace of the chlorinated old water will have passed and the new and pure supply will be available from then on.

Engineers who designed the new water station, advised against the sudden filling of all the basins Tuesday. The pumps were turned on to insure that they were in working order and to show the operation of the plant, but the reservoirs were not allowed to fill from the new water, but will be filled gradually. This move was advised by Phillip Burgess, of Burgess & Niple consulting hydraulic engineers of Columbus, who designed the station.

The new water station is smaller than either the old Cincinnati avenue station or the Springfield pike station. It is located back of the mill of the DeWine Milling Company, north of Old Town, and is of brick and concrete construction. It was designed by Burgess & Niple and was built by the Loyd Contracting Company of this city.

Set Deep in Ground. The power pumps are set deep in the ground or what might be termed the basement, where they draw the water from the one well being used now, fifty feet away. Two 16 horse power pumps, each with a pumping capacity of 700 gallons a minute, draw the water from the wells to the plant. Running from holes in heavy cast iron pipes, the water is aerated outside, by passing over charcoal beds, which break up the water units and serves to oxidize the iron which forms a large part of the water's ingredients.

From the beds, the water drops into an immense concrete basin on the outside of the building. It was this basin that the engineers advised against filling quickly, and the pumps will be worked gradually until it is filled. As the basin is filled the water overflows to three concrete sand basin units on the interior of the building.

Filtered Through Sand. Here the water churns through pure white cleaning sand that causes the iron to precipitate, and removes the water from foreign matter, and impurities. These sand basin tanks overflow through pipes to the creek outside of the building and is carried off. When the water in the basins is pure it settles into the large basin underneath which holds 20,000 gallons of pure, clean water.

From this basin the water is picked up and sent, charging through the mains into the city. A 100-horse power pump with a 700 gallon per minute capacity, adds the force that sends the water through mains, and the pump is supplemented by another 100 horse power pump, with a 200-gallon per minute booster capacity, that is added to the city pressure power when

TRADE AGREEMENT BETWEEN ENGLAND AND RUSSIA MADE

Culmination Of Nearly Two Years' Negotiations Is Announced.

London, March 16.—A commercial agreement for reciprocal trading has been signed by Great Britain and soviet Russia, it was announced today.

Negotiations between Russia and Great Britain have been in progress for nearly two years. Several times they have been reported broken off, but always the powerful British labor party brought pressure upon the government in favor of their restoration. It was contended by officials of British trade unions that the opening of trade relations would do much to alleviate British unemployment. The negotiations were lagging when Washington D. Vanderlip the American financier, went to Russia and secured valuable concessions for the exploitation of Siberian territory and for the exchange of manufactured goods and raw materials. The Russian-Britain negotiations were speeded up and the signing of the pact quickly followed. It was claimed by officials of the soviet government that reports of the recent anti-russing at Kronstadt were exaggerated with a view to hindering the trade negotiations of the soviet government.

SUNDAY TO VISIT DAYTON IN 1922

Dayton, O., March 16.—Two months will be taken by Billy Sunday in an effort to drive sin from Dayton, according to plans made by the evangelist and local church leaders, meeting at Cincinnati, last night. Sunday will be here November and December of 1922, the only open date his party has before the middle of 1923.

needed to increase the force against any head necessary.

With both of these pumps in operation, a 900 gallon per minute capacity is attained, which insures 54,000 gallons of water an hour or 1,296,000 gallons of clean, pure water every 24 hours. This amount of course, is considerably more than the city needs, but insures adequate water for fire protection and any other time of need. Added to this supply are 270,000 gallons of water. This being the amount the stand pipe holds which holds which is always available for a reserve supply.

270,000 Gallons in Reserve.

Should the water supply from the station at Old Town, be cut off, the 270,000 gallons of water available in the stand pipe, would furnish the city with more than six hours supply of water under the maximum domestic draft. Of course should this supply be cut off during the night, the draft would be light, and the reserve supply would stretch over a longer period. Under the maximum fire draft, it is considered that two fire streams would be thrown from the booster pump apparatus on the White fire truck, throwing a maximum of water. In this event, should the supply be cut off the supply in the stand pipe, would be sufficient for over four hours.

The setting of the new pumps into action, Tuesday afternoon, marked the realization of a dream upon the part of the citizens and of the city authorities. Since the city purchased the plants of the privately owned Xenia Water Company, the development of a new supply, and the construction of a new and efficient plant, has been the aim of the administration. Spurred on by the complaints of citizens regarding the ill-tasting water, and urged in even stronger terms by the State Board of Health, the work was rushed to conclusion and the starting of the pumps, marks the realization.

Manager Present. Leonard Griesbaum, district manager of the Dravo-Doyle company of Indianapolis, the firm that furnished the pumps and motors, was present at the starting of the pumps Tuesday, and examined them as they were in operation. He will return to this city Monday, when the pumps are started permanently, and when the old machinery in the old Cincinnati pike and Springfield pike stations will be cut off permanently. Within a few hours after the supply is stopped and the new supply started, Xenia water patrons will be drinking their first of the new water supply.

City ownership has made the water supply and the new plant a possibility, and city ownership has also introduced efficiency in the construction of the new plant, that will make the municipal water works a real paying proposition according to city officials. The saving in the operation of the water works, through the use of electrically operated pumps, will be $13,000 a year it is claimed.

In the party that inspected the new plant Tuesday were City Manager Kenyon Riddle, City Auditor T. H. Zell, City Commissioners J. Thorb Charters, C. S. Frazer, Dr. A. D. De Haven and Arthur Whalen, Leonard Griesbaum, district manager of the Dravo-Doyle Company, of Indianapolis. Phillip Burgess, of the engineering firm of Burgess & Niple of Columbus. Smith & Foster, engineers of Dayton, who were engineers for the city during the paving work last year, J. H. Loyd and E. S. Davidson, of the Loyd Contracting Company, which constructed the water plant, Dr. R. H. Grube, City Health Officer, who has been active in the campaign for better water, Secretary F. J. Slackford of the Chamber of Commerce, a number of interested citizens and newspapermen.

ENGLISH LABOR WOMEN TO HOLD

London.—Under the auspices of the Labor Party, the Annual Conference of Women will take place in Manchester on April 27 and 28.

Representatives will attend from every women's organization in the United Kingdom and there will also be present representatives from all national organizations affiliated to the Labor Party, which include women members.

All the delegates will be women and it is expected that at least 600 will attend the conference.

This is the first time that a conference of labor women has been held on so large a scale out of London, and it is believed that the central position of Manchester will be of great advantage in bringing women delegates from the North.

TO GET OUR MONEY'S WORTH

She Knows
Slump Is Over
Cake to Curtains
Careless Spenders
Americans Do Read

AN EDITORIAL
ON ADVERTISING

The public is beginning to buy more freely. Let us be thankful. This will renew business activities and make better times for all of us.

But the slump in buying, out of which we are emerging, has not been without its usefulness. It has sobered us, after our fling at reckless spending, and brought us back to the good old practice of demanding our money's worth.

As a nation, we have been accused of being careless spenders. Perhaps we are—at times. We have not been taught, by hard necessity, the full meaning of thrift.

Yet the fact remains that we are the most skilled shoppers in the world. We waste less time at shopping, and do our buying with more intelligence, than any other people. We know how to make a dollar do its full duty when we set our mind to it.

This is not to pride ourselves on a superior trading instinct. European peoples could teach us much on this score. But our shopping methods are superior.

It is a significant fact that Americans read more and better advertising than do the people of any other nation. And advertising has formulated our buying habits.

It has given us a short cut to intelligent buying.

Some ninety per cent of all the buying for homes, in this country, is done by women. The American woman is a voracious reader of advertising. And in all the realm of civilized people there are none who can compare with her for a broad knowledge of merchandise. On almost every commodity one could mention, from cake flours to curtains for her living room, she has ideas—ideas that aid her skill in buying.

She knows prices—she studies them diligently in the department store and other advertisements.

Better still, she knows values. It is difficult to fool her in these days on the quality one has a right to expect in a bottle of catsup. She knows what makes for durability in a rug. She has good taste with respect to furniture and personal attire.

Advertising has helped her in all this. It has taken her behind the scenes—shown her how merchandise is made, and set for her a standard of value.

It is not to be wondered at, therefore, that advertising has come to be more and more a shopping guide. It is our best protection against goods of uncertain quality—our best assistance in seeing to it that we get our money's worth.

We are a nation of skilled shoppers, because we have a system for buying with our eyes wide open. When we squander, we do so wilfully and perversely.

Today we are demanding our money's worth.

This is a good sign. For, not how much, but how wisely one spends determines the prosperity of any individual. And the same thing holds true for a whole nation of individuals.

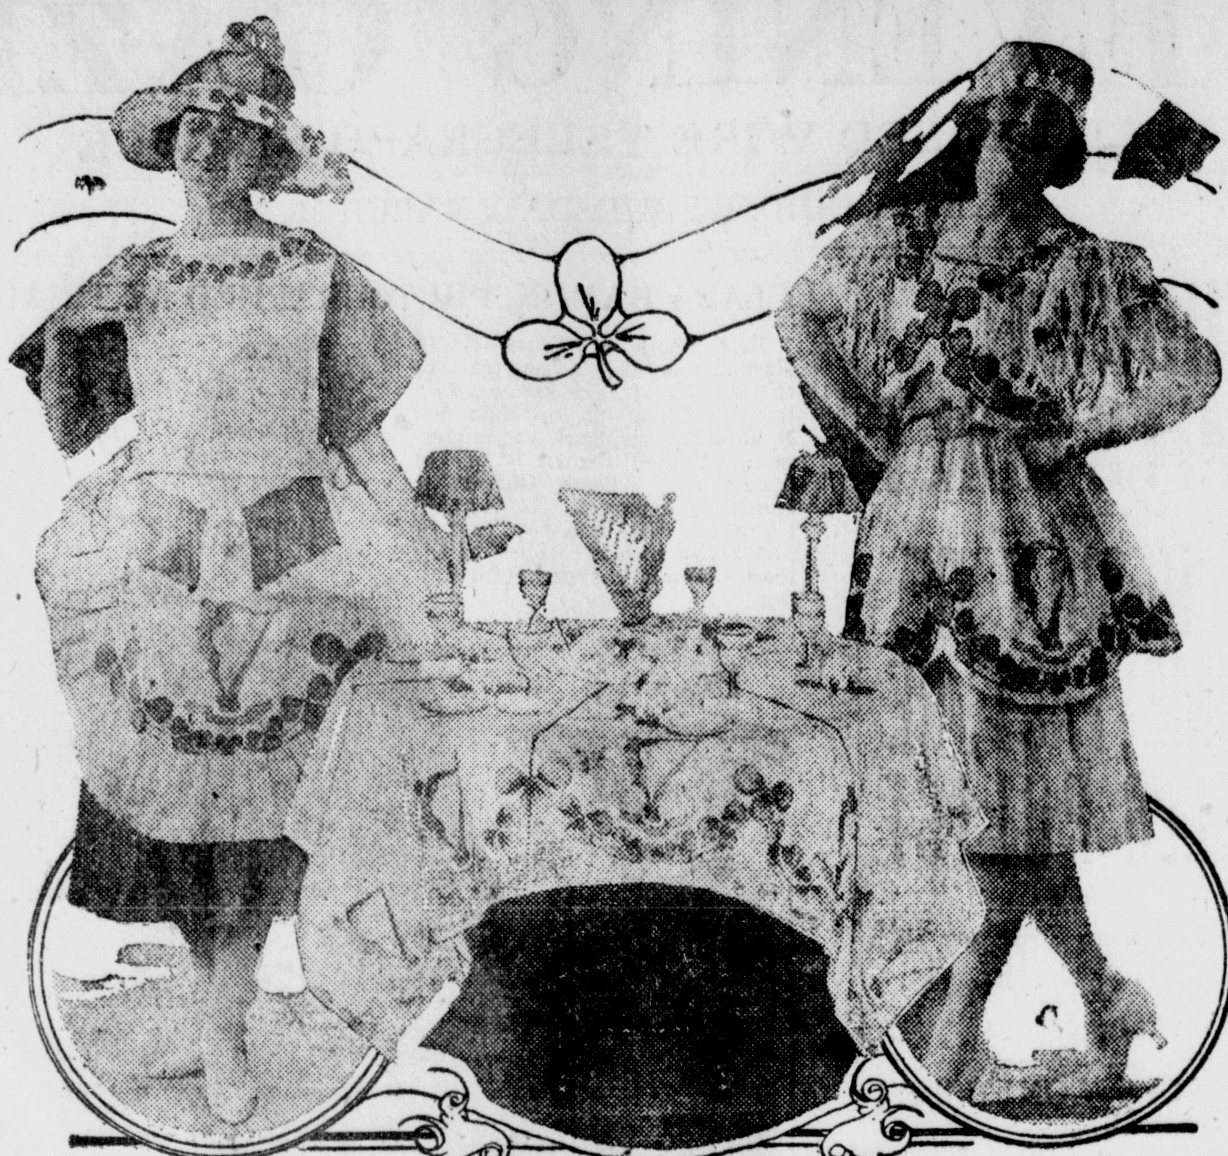

GLAD OF THE DAY I FIRST FOUND DRECO

Relieved stomach disorder, constipation and biliousness promptly.

"It was a lucky day for me when I decided to take Dreco, for I'm now entirely well," never have gas in stomach, bowels act daily and my liver has been cleaned off," stated Mr. P. Livingston residing on Main St., Marion, Ind.

Undigested food remaining in the stomach produces poisonous gases which cause discomfort and various troubles. After taking Dreco, it is noticed the bowels act well, stomach is soothed, gastritis relieved, the liver is worked off and nerves quieted. All druggists sell Dreco, specially introduced here at Sohn's Drug Store.

SPRING PRACTICE STILL IN VOGUE

Spring football rehearsals are still in vogue at Cedarville college and Monday found about sixteen of the pigskin candidates cavorting about with the oval.

Freshmen material for next year begins to look good as prospects for the first football eleven, the Cedarville school has developed for several years. Yesterday Elmer Owens, of Central High School athletic fame entered the Cedarville School, and will be a valuable addition to the football and basketball squad. McFadden and Riddell, also of this city, are showing up well in the early practice session, and it is likely that all three Xenia boys will make a bid for positions on the moleskin outfit at its inauguration at Cedarville next fall.

Sir Walter Scott's
Crimson Wall Paper

SIR WALTER SCOTT personally supervised the hanging of his dining room with a crimson colored India paper and at the time was very much afraid that the paper would not reach clear around the room. No such worries for Sir Walter had been able to call at our store for his wall paper. We could have told him exactly how much paper he would need, and we might have suggested something more soothing than his crimson paper, which, history has it, annoyed him greatly.

SPEAKERS DEPICT XENIA AS CITY BEAUTIFUL AT MEET

A picture of Xenia, a city beautiful, with playgrounds and recreation centers for the youth, and pretty parking places that might contribute to making this city one of the prettiest in the state, was painted by orators at the Town Meeting held at the Opera House Tuesday night in the interests of city beautification and under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

More than 300 people, braved the threatening storm that later broke in torrents, to attend the meeting, at which time there was born a plan to conduct a campaign for funds to carry on the beautification work suggested, and which gathered hearty endorsement from the applause of the people on hand. A fund of $2,500, of which $2,000 will be used in planting and $500 for upkeep, will probably be the aim of the organizers of the movement, to provide money to carry out the plans.

In the absence of Attorney C. L. Darlington, who was called out of the city, Dr. B. R. McClellan acted as chairman of the meeting. In his brief talk he made a plea for playgrounds and recreation centers for the children. In the course of his talk he pictured small boys playing ball in the narrow confines of back yards, with the neighbor's window glass in imminent danger and he alluded to the physical and moral benefit from a good clean, out of door life, such as would be provided Xenia children in play centers of this nature.

"Xenia ought not to stop until provisions are made in the East End, the North End, the West End and the South End, for adequate playgrounds for children of all classes, rich or poor," said Dr. McClellan. "You cannot have good brains, without good brawn. You cannot have a good nervous system without a good muscular system. The boy or girl who lives an out of door life has the best control of himself or herself and Xenia should not give up until these things are assured."

Dr. McClellan introduced E. H. Freudenberger, Dayton landscape gardener, who through the use of colored stereopticon views, pointed out the difference in homely sites after the planting of flowers and shrubbery. The pictures and the running story told by Freudenberger showed the proper forms of planting, and the way to plant to get the best results. His pictures of Dayton community playgrounds where the children of that city, have an overwhelming advantage over the children of Xenia, only served to emphasize Dr. McClellan's plea for the youth.

Dr. A. M. Patterson, introduced lastly by Dr. McClellan, presented a series of slides of more local interest. Pictures taken of some of Xenia's streets before they were improved, and pictures of the same streets since the paving work has been finished pointed out concrete examples of how improvements of this nature affect beauty. The views explained by Dr. Patterson, also showed certain sections of the city now little more than eye sores, and the same sections as they would appear with the addition of a little greenery. A view of North Detroit street, with shrubbery planted along the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad Springfield branch is soon to come true, said Dr. Patterson, as the railroad has promised to carry on such plans for shrubbery planting in the section.

Dr. Patterson gave an interesting retrospect of the foundation of the welfare work in Xenia as it now is. In the spring of 1914, according to his story, a Welfare League was started for the purpose of carrying on a spring cleanup. This was the beginning of the system of annual spring cleanups that have taken place every year. Later one committee of this League developed into the Social Service League, another committee composed of business men, developed into the Xenia Business Men's Association, and later the Chamber of Commerce. The League arranged for hand concerts that summer, held two lectures on landscape gardening, was instrumental in the beautification of the Masonic Temple lot, now occupied by the Standard Oil Filling Station and in getting the Pennsylvania railroad to make a park of the empty section along South Detroit street opposite the Xenia Shoe Manufacturing Company.

While the pictures shown in connection with the meeting were interesting the failure of the electric power of the Dayton Power & Light Company on two different occasions, interrupted the showing of the slides.

TWAS A STORMY NIGHT; BLACKNESS RULED SUPREME

The Dayton Power & Light Company had its troubles in large amounts Tuesday night.

With the approach of the storm which swept over this section, with a severe electrical display, and other features of the summer's mad elements, the lights in Xenia began going on and off with maddening regularity.

Shortly after 9:30 o'clock, the lights popped out for a long rest, and it was twenty minutes before power was resumed. The darkness was caused by the blowing out of a feeder at the generation station of the company at Miller's Ford, near Dayton, and it was necessary to shut down the entire plant until it could be re-insulated.

Street car service was impaired by the lack of power and the city car was stranded on East Main street. Picture theaters here, were not annoyed by the failure of the power, because both have their own power stations. Business houses that have no gas provisions however, were cast in darkness and at the dancing school in the Knights of Pythias Castle, dancers were forced to abandon their steps until candles could be found.

In Dayton, the theaters used candles for footlights, and lanterns were brought into play, while members of the companies entertained the audience during the period of darkness.

Akron Man and Wife Are Both Restored to Health By Taking Tanlac.

"My wife and I are great advocates of Tanlac now and call it our family medicine," said J. S. McGone, of 120 Market St., Akron, Ohio, well-known employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"My wife and I have both been in bad health for a year or more, suffering from stomach trouble. Every time I ate anything I nearly always wished I hadn't touched a bit, for I would turn almost deadly sick at my stomach and at night I couldn't get any rest hardly and often had terrible nightmares. Dizzy spells struck me at time and if I couldn't catch cold of something I would fall to the floor."

"My wife had indigestion so bad she couldn't enjoy a single meal. She had little or no appetite, was all run-down and so weak it would nearly break her down trying to do the housework."

"We started taking Tanlac at the same time and both of us commenced improving so fast it seemed like a race between us to see which one would get well first. We took four bottles apiece and today we are in the best of health. She can do the housework with ease and looks like a different person. I have the finest kind of appetite, eat anything I like and feel as spry and healthy as when I was a boy. We are both only too glad to speak a good word for Tanlac. It's got the world beat, that's all."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill, in Yellow Springs by A. H. Kroger, in Springfield by J. S. Meiste, in Fairfield, Paul P. Young, Osborn, C. J. Logsdon, New Burlington W. C. Smith.

PROPERTY SALE INVOLVING MILLION DOLLARS IS MADE

A property sale involving a million dollars was consummated Tuesday when 4,330 acres of land in Madison county, owned by the Houston Farm Company and the L. H. and E. D. Houston estates, was sold to Charles Lewis, Upper Sandusky banker, according to Lawrence Laybourne, Springfield attorney, and one of the trustees of the estates.

The sale marks the first step by the Houston interest toward the liquidation of the affairs of the Houston bank at South Charleston, which closed its doors last November, with liabilities totalling more than half a million dollars. Approximately 2,900 acres of the tract sold Tuesday was owned by the Houston Farm Company, and the remainder was owned by the estate, proper. It was conveyed, however, as one tract. Of the purchase price, $350,000 was paid in cash by the new owners and mortgage notes on sixteen different tracts were accepted as payment for the remaining $650,000.

Since the Houston bank is one of the largest creditors of the Farm Company, the sale will enable the farm company to repay to the bank, loans which were obtained prior to the closing of the bank and which it has since been unable to meet. Because of the legal intricacies involved, it is not known how soon the affairs of the bank will be in such shape that payments of its creditors can begin.

HOW OUR "JOLLY TARS" WOULD ENJOY DOING THIS NEXT 4th OF JULY.

Nine German warships will be used as targets by the United States navy early next summer. It is an excellent use to make of German warships. The targets consist of one battleship, one cruiser, three destroyers and four submarines. They are part of the big fleet surrendered by Germany after the armistice, and by agreement with the allies must be destroyed before August 9. The navy department has announced that the rite will be celebrated with due éclat sometime between June 1 and July 15. It need cause no surprise if it occurs on July 4. No doubt the American gunners and aviators would relish such practice on that day.

The experiment should result in valuable information, particularly along the line of aerial attack. It has been a much debated problem, in this country as in England, whether battleships were not obsolete because they were too easy and vulnerable marks for air bombs. Tests made with one old American battleship are not regarded as having settled the problem. They smashed things up pretty well above deck, but did no harm below. Naval aviators will see if they can do better with the German battleship Ostfriesland and the cruiser Frankfurt, and also with the obsolete American battleship Iowa, and probably the smaller craft.

The bombs will weigh from 500 to 1,000 pounds and will be dropped from seaplanes going at full speed at a height of nearly a mile. The tests will all be under battle conditions, with the targets in motion, directed by wireless. Any craft not sunk by air bombs will be assailed by gunfire. If that fails, depth charges will be used.

It need cause no surprise if these tests result in a new impetus for the development of the air service, and a curtailment of costly battleship construction. More than 1,000 bombing planes can be built for the price of one modern battleship; and however unequal the contest may be between a battleship and a single bombing plane, nobody imagines that the most powerful dreadnought afloat could beat 1,000 of them.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S FOREIGN POLICY IN A NUTSHELL

President Harding has only reiterated what has been accepted everywhere as America's final judgment and position on the league question. America can enter into no political commitments nor assume any economic obligations which will subject our decisions to any other than our own authority. At the same time "we are ready to associate ourselves with the nations of the world, great and small, for conference, for counsel, to seek the expressed views of world opinion, to recommend a way to approximate disarmament and relieve the crushing burdens of military and naval establishments." So far as that position opens the way to international action the United States is ready to discuss what the action shall be and the means for taking it.

WHERE TIMES ARE REALLY HARD.

One way to alleviate the thought of "hard times" in this country is to reflect a little on the conditions that prevail in China and the near East where millions of persons are threatened with starvation and where, in the latter country, thousands are reported to be dying every day for lack of food.

America has gone through many periods when business and employment conditions were worse than at present. But this country has not yet seen the day when it was inclined to turn a deaf ear to the cry of real sufferers in other lands. General Wood has called upon the American people to make a Lenten sacrifice in behalf of the long stricken peoples of the near East, and the needs of the larger numbers of famine victims in China are daily being presented.

LEARN TODAY'S LESSON.

Any school boy knows what it means to fall behind in his class work. If through absence or indolence he leaves today's lesson unlearned, tomorrow's becomes twice as difficult. And at examination time, the neglected lesson, unless it has been made up, may mean an utter failure.

One of the lessons we study daily is the lesson of history—not the history of the past, but the history of today. And if we do not study it daily, in the only place it is to be found—the newspapers—we soon fall behind in an important department of knowledge.

You will be abler, keener, better fit for your daily tasks if you read the newspapers, not occasionally, but every day, reflecting on what you read and letting nothing of importance escape your daily attention. The newspapers are made up by men trained in bringing together all the most important of the world's happenings and condensing them so that you can grasp them with little difficulty. It is your history of the most interesting of all the periods of the world's history—the times in which you are living.

You can get an excellent education by reading the newspapers attentively and following up the suggestions that come to you while reading them. If you do not read them, and read them carefully, you will always be rusty and behind the times, though you have taken all the degrees the greatest university can confer.

There was a little ripple of excitement on Detroit street, this morning caused by the Messrs. O. M. Lance and H. G. Marcy of Wilkesbarre, Pa., spent Sunday in this city. They the president and treasurer, respectively, of the new Xenia Water Company. It was Mr. Lance's first trip to Xenia and he was much pleased with both the city and the water works plant.

U.S. SAILOR WAS TORTURED BY BOLSHEVIKI IN RUSSIA

Brookfield, Mo.—Francis Foreman, a sailor in the U. S. Navy, revealed while on a visit to his home here a story of unspeakable torture while held a prisoner by the Bolsheviki in Russia. Foreman, serving his fourth year in the navy, was captured while carrying a navy message. His companion was shot and Foreman taken prisoner. The Brookfield had destroyed the message. His captors then subjected him to a series of tortures in an effort to compel him to reveal its contents. His feet were burned with lighted candles and his chest branded with hot irons. He was held a captive for three months, during which time he lost 95 pounds. Foreman is now recuperating at an army hospital in Colorado.

VAMPIRE WITH KAYO KISS TRIED SMACK ON WRONG MAN

Chicago.—"All men are boobs," was Cleopatra Hurtman's philosophy. But Cleopatra has changed her mind as she sits in her detention home cell awaiting a stay of ten years to life in prison.

It was the boob who refused to stay a boob that put Cleopatra there. Like a number of other good men and true, Richard Jacker became a victim of Cleopatra's coy ways and was lured to the door of her West Side apartment. There as paradise was about to descend to earth in one of Cleopatra's kisses, Jacker, like several others, received a knockout blow from a blackjack. When he regained his equilibrium, eight dollars and his watch were gone. Also his confidence in Cleopatra. For a week Jacker patrolled the downtown corner where he had met the pretty "lure." Finally one night he saw her. Then came the police and trial for Cleopatra. A number of other "boobs" also testified against her.

MOTOR AIDS

If you have a casing the fabric of which has a weak spot, a properly applied reliner or even inside patch is capable of reinforcing the tire. Such a weakness is likely caused by a stone bruise.

The reliner may delay the blowing out of the casing at this point for a long period. Some casings show indications of structural weakness considerably before their threads wear through or become detached, and in such an instance, a complete reliner may make them wear much longer.

Some owners put reliners in tires after they have nearly run their guaranteed mileage, even though they do not show a weakness and it is a good idea to so strengthen your tires when they have run the expected mileage.

Is It Yours?

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF James Madison
March 16, 1751.

The fourth President of the United States, James Madison, was born in Virginia in 1751. His father was the owner of large estates there, so he received an excellent education. His first idea was to study for the ministry, and he was taking theology at Princeton when he gradually drifted into the political tangles of the Colonies.

His work during the Revolution was entirely political. Madison had the mind of a statesman. From the time he was 24 years old, when he became chairman of a committee on public safety for his home county, almost until the day of his death his work was political. He helped draft the Constitution of the United States and pleaded for its adoption by the various states with all the eloquence at his command.

Madison was Secretary of State under Jefferson and was elected President in 1808 and re-elected in 1812. He was so sure that the War of 1812 could not happen that he was unprepared when it did, and his administration during the war was pitifully weak. Political writers say that Madison was too much of a scholar to be a strong leader in any crisis such as a war.

When he retired from the Presidency in 1817, he returned to his estate in Virginia, though he still remained politically active to a certain extent. He died in Virginia in 1836. His lavish hospitality had made great inroads into his fortune and his stepson, who grew up as a wild young man, according to biographers, took nearly all that was left. Madison had married a widow who was famous for her beauty.

Everyday Etiquette

"Please tell me what is the proper disposition of the napkin when one is visiting?" asked Fred.

"Place the napkin, unfolded on the table when rising. If you are visiting for a day or so you should do as the host and hostess do, for it may be that they fold their napkins for use at the next meal," said his mother.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Caused By Irritated Bladder, Relieved By Simple Remedy For This Dayton Man.

This letter was taken from the Dayton Daily News. Mr. Wm. D. Ostermeyer, 323 E. Second street, says: "My bladder caused me to get up many times at night and also inconvenienced me as often as every 30 minutes in the day. After taking a few lithiated buchu tablets my bladder is perfectly normal. They also relieved a very lame back for me. It gives me much pleasure to tell my friends about these little tablets."

Lithiated buchu acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom salts do on the bowels. It cleans them out. It is not a patent medicine, as the formula is on the package. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several high-priced drugs, which are necessary for prompt relief. Very likely you have never taken anything like this remedy. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high colored urine, frequent desire, gravel and other defects of the bladder.

You can get lithiated buchu, Keller formula, at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store and drug stores everywhere.

SPRING.

Now comes the end, my fellow-men, of winter, stern and bitter; the spring is coming once again, and merry birds will twitter, and joy will permeate each hen and cow and human critter. The winter has been mild and kind, no tempests raged severely, the elements all seemed inclined to treat us fair, or nearly; the frost king and his frigid kind were kept in limits, clearly. And so we have no kick to make about the season going, but oh, our buzzurns fairly ache to see the green things growing, to skirmish with a spade or rake, or do some fancy hoing! The winter makes us feel our years, and fills our hearts with sorrow, and, though a balmy day appears, small comfort can we borrow, for we are always filled with fears of what may come tomorrow. "The northern sky grows grim and gray," we sigh, with grim foreboding, "and though the sun's on deck today, we have a fear corroding that Boreas will come our way, his tinhorn goods unloading." To all such fears spring gives release, the fears that used to bore us; we do not summon the police when clouds assemble o'er us; spring fills our jaded souls with peace, and places hope before us.

DIFFERENT SORTS OF VOICES

In taking up any study of the voice, one of the first things to understand is the difference between voices, and which are the pleasing and which are the unpleasant sorts. When I speak of the quality of the voice, I mean the sort of voice. An elocution teacher has divided the various types in this way:

Ordinary	PURE	Normal
Enlarged	Harsh	Grating
Very Low	Throaty	Nasal
Intermittent	Impure	Tremolo

Breathy, Throaty, Harsh, Rasping, Grating, Improper use of Nose, Very High, Falsetto, Weak, Thin, Oral.

This same elocution teacher goes on to say that the pure voice is the natural voice for the expression of all pure sentiment. He says the voice should be always pure unless the sentiment expressed is so harsh, intense or violent that it disarranges the vocal organs. Ordinary sentiment, he says, is expressed by the normal voice. For this the throat should be open and flexible, the words easily and clearly pronounced.

All lofty or ennobling sentiment is expressed by the orotund voice which is only the normal voice enlarged and ennobled. The voice has a resonance given it by the head and chest and the vowels are sounded more prominently than in ordinary conversation.

What he called the pectoral voice is very low, the resonance comes from the lower part of the chest. It is used in reciting very solemn or supernatural passages. If you have seen "Hamlet" done by a good actor, you will remember the unusual quality of voice in the tragic scene.

The tremolo voice is used to express great joy, sorrow, fear or anger. The flow of voice is broken, the vowels are not uttered smoothly.

Brownie—if you had sent me a letter with a self-addressed stamp-envelope enclosed, I could have answered your questions more fully. You complain of sharp ankles, pimples, blackheads, dandruff, vertigo, thinness, pains in the side when you run, bony wrists and flat feet. I am inclined to think that you have given the reason for all these ailments when you say that you do not have the right kind of food to eat and that you hardly ever go out doors. The food problem is one that you must find a way to solve. You cannot be healthy on bad foods. Can you not change the kind of food, so that you have more fruit and green things to eat and less heavy meats and starches?

For the rest, you must get enough sleep, eight or nine hours in a room with the windows wide open and you must get out-doors for a little daily exercise. Can you not arrange your work so as to allow this?

Tell your friend who says that whenever he goes to sleep "something seems to grab him by the throat" that this may be due to nothing more serious than indigestion, and it may be due to some more serious nervous trouble. He should see a physician about it.

Easy For Thin People to Put on Flesh, Gain Weight

It's such an easy matter nowadays for thin, weak, scrawny people put on good healthy, solid flesh and become plump and graceful that one often wonders why there are still so many people who seem to prefer to be "all skin and bone", ungainly and unpleasant to look upon.

Physicians have long known that whoever could discover a remedy that would cause the food that one puts into the stomach to turn into good, rich, flesh-making blood instead of going to waste, would also discover how to put healthy muscular flesh onto thin undernourished people and this has now been accomplished.

If you are thin, underdeveloped, nervous, weak, or lack vigor and vitality, you can secure at any good pharmacy at moderate cost, a ten days' treatment of EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES, a new combination of flesh producing muscle building, strength creating elements that is guaranteed to put good, solid, lasting flesh on your body and to make you strong, healthy and vigorous or money back.

Physicians who have watched the results of the Evans' Triple Phosphates treatment are astonished at its rapid action—often in a month five to ten pounds of desirable weight is gained. Sohn's Drug Store and Sayre and Hemphill have agreed to supply readers of this paper with Evans' Triple Phosphates and to guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money returned.

OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick

More Than 1,000,000 Now
The outstanding feature of the first of eight district conference of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs at Kent March 11 and 12 was the official announcement that the Ohio federation has now a membership of more than 1,000,000. This announcement was made by Mrs. William H. Sharp, Columbus, president of the state federation. In an address that captivated her hearers she told of the splendid work accomplished in all of the various departments of the state federation as well as by the local federations and individual clubs all over Ohio. Volving her conception of a club woman's duty as a citizen, she asserted that "politics, like charity, begins at home," and added: "The place to begin community service is in the ballot box. See that your party secures good candidates. If your party does not put up the right kind, vote with the other party. This may not be good politics but it is good citizenship. We are a federation of more than 100,000 strong, and we must let our parties know that we intend to have the people in office that will secure for city, state and nation the right kind of government." Mrs. Sharp elaborated somewhat on the fact that Ohio club women were behind house bill No. 14 calling for better moving pictures in Ohio. Her remarks in this regard were supplemented by Miss Genevieve Cline, Cleveland, state federation legislative chairman, who said that many of the pictures today formed an incentive to crime. "There must be a change and it is upon the heads of the women of Ohio if this bill fails to become a law," Miss Cline declared.

The address of Hon. William G. Sharp, former ambassador to France, was the line feature of the Kent program. This was the big thought he imparted that all club women carried home with them: "France is founded on three pillars—religion, education and patriotism—and the people of France all three in their everyday lives."

Three hundred and fifty-two delegates and guests attended the Kent convention, which was a real success. It was notable for the large galaxy of state officers that it drew and for the brilliancy of its program.

The Height of Musical Joy

YOU get the height of musical joy when you hear a great living artist. But you get equal joy when you hear the same artist on the New Edison.

The proof of this is convincing, conclusive and concrete.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Convincing—for Mr. Edison himself said in a recent interview: "The emotional effects and consequent benefits of music are well known. Through the agency of my new phonograph, I can produce the same effects as would result from the original music."

Conclusive—for you can score, on a Mood Change Chart, the effects of the New Edison's realism on you. Come in and listen to this test of realism.

Concrete—for we will show a big book of proof, that there is no difference between RE-CREATED music and the original music. This proof would be good in any court of law.

OBITUARY

Rachel Ann Ellis, daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth Murphy was born near New Hope Church in Greene County, Ohio, January 19, 1848. She passed to the better world from her home near Port William, Ohio, March 9th, 1921, aged 73 years, 1 month and 20 days. Her youth was spent in a Christian neighborhood and her life reflected the purity and goodness of her nature. She united in marriage with Joshua Ellis an honored soldier of the Civil war, September 23, 1867, to this union were born two children, Harley B. and Veturah E., and to them each one child, Orville the Son of Harley B., and Nora the daughter of Veturah E.

"Aunt Rachel" was loved best by those who knew her best. Her life was spent in making things pleasant for all with whom she came in contact, so how could we help but love her. She united with the M. P. Church at Port William, Ohio, in the winter of 1884 and lived the life of a Christian to the end. And when the end of all things mortal was near she met it with a smile. Surrounded by husband, children and grandchildren and friends she passed across so quietly that she was gone "while we watched."

Healthful Spine Overcomes Headaches

(Wednesday Health Talk No. 27)
(By G. C. DONOHOO, D. C., Ph. C.)

Headaches are from various causes. Sometimes the headache is due to indigestion, sometimes it is biliousness, sometimes it is traceable to female troubles, sometimes to a catarrhal condition. An adjustment quite frequently gives immediate relief, but the cause cannot be removed in one adjustment.

Nervous headaches due to indigestion, for instance are quite often given immediate relief by an adjustment which frees the nerves in the region where the ache is felt, but the cause can only be removed by a series of adjustments calculated to restore a full degree of nerve impulse transmission into the stomach and liver, whose faulty action is the cause of such headaches. Getting rid of the headache (a symptom of something wrong) is not always getting rid of the cause. To get rid of the tendency to headaches, a series of adjustments is necessary.

WANTS OTHERS TO PROFIT

"I am writing this in hope that others may profit by my experience. I had nervous headaches, indigestion and inflammatory rheumatism, all of which every remedy I tried failed to relieve. Chiropractic spinal adjustments put me back on my feet and at work once more."—A. W. Carter, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 1253F.

"23 1-2 HOURS LEAVE"

CRIMINALS NO LONGER FEAR ELECTRIC CHAIR, SAYS WARDEN OF SING SING

Ossining.—One hundred and eighty have gone the way of "the chair" in Sing Sing Prison last year. Seventeen walked the march of death through the "little green door." In the first two months of this year three more have paid the extreme penalty, and March was ushered in with another execution.

With the announcement of these figures, given in an interview to the International News Service recently, Warden Lewis E. Lawes stated that fear of electrocution no longer exists in the criminal mind.

"Electrocution as at present carried out does not keep down the number of murders," he said in discussing the recent crime wave which has swept the country and has been attended by many wanton killings.

The list of murders has grown appallingly all over the country. Most of them have been committed, not for some great or fancied wrong, but in connection with hold-ups and petty robberies, the taking of life literally for a song. Warden Lawes stated that possibly this is due to an after the war condition. Certain it is that life is held cheaply now and to many of criminal instincts life is a cheap gamble and the electric chair is no longer a spectre to deter them from capital crimes.

Odds With Murder.
"The odds are all with the murderer in this gamble," said Warden Lawes. "The percentage of those actually executed is so small compared to the number of murders committed that capital punishment falls as a deterrent."

"Here is another astounding fact," said Warden Lawes. "The majority of men who now occupy the death house have not been previously confined in prison." Life, indeed, has become a cheap gamble.

In fact, there now exists a spirit of bravado such as never before has been manifest. A typical instance of this was shown not so long ago when five condemned men were put to death at Sing Sing in a space of little over an hour, passing one after the other into the death chamber.

New Spirit of Bravado
"Give her the gas—turn on the juice," said one of the men as he was strapped into the chair.

At Sing Sing where all electrocutions for New York State are now carried out the toll of lives in exacting the extreme penalty is higher than in any other prison in the country because of the large State population which have capital punishment the stout oaken chair with its electrodes and straps has worked overtime in recent months. An in all of them electrocutions are carried out in practically the same manner.

No "New Improvements."
Science has made wonderful progress in recent years in prolonging life, new serums and anti-toxins have been discovered and surgery has advanced to an unmarked degree, but the method of taking life remains the same.

"Electrocution was introduced in this state nearly thirty years ago," said Warden Lawes, "but the chair today is the same as it has always been. Except for the amount of current used and the length of the contact there has been no change. In former years 1,500 volts were used Today 2,000 volts are used and better results are obtained."

Asked as to whether he did not think that in time science will bring forth some radically new and different method of carrying out the mandate of capital punishment, Warden Lawes replied that he did not believe any change would be made. "If capital punishment is necessary," he said, "electrocution is both effective and humane as to method."

All Use Same Methods
"All prisons are using practically the same methods. From the time the contact is given until pronounced dead by the physician, the average is eight minutes. The first contact is for a period of one minute and fifteen seconds. The second is usually for five seconds. From the time the first contact is applied the man is entirely unconscious. Care is taken to prevent burning and defacement else the execution could be accomplished more quickly.

"Let me say, however," said Warden Lawes, "that to those in charge of carrying out the mandate of capital punishment it is indeed a most disagreeable duty. To those who must enforce the law it is one topic usually avoided."

"I believe that in time capital punishment will be abolished."

COURT NEWS

Seek to Transfer Funds

A petition to transfer certain money from one fund to another, was filed with Clerk of Courts C. S. Johnson Tuesday by J. Kenneth Williamson, attorney for the Board of Trustees of Silvercreek township. On March 5, the board passed the resolution to transfer $1,300 from the general fund and $400 from the poor fund to the road fund, the last named fund being almost depleted and more money needed, while there is more money than needed in the other two funds. The Board now seeks the authority of the Court in making the transfer.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—chilly eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

NUMBER OF MOTOR VEHICLES IN U. S. INCREASES 22 P. C.

A total of 9,211,295 motor cars including commercial vehicles were registered last year in the 48 states and District of Columbia, according to figures compiled by the bureau of Public Roads of United States Department of Agriculture in a study of revenue available for road-building purposes. There were also registered a total of 238,146 motorcycles. The registration and license fees, including those for chauffeurs operators and dealers amounted to $102,034,106.26. As compared with 1919, the data for 1920 represent an increase of 22 percent or $1,645,849 motor cars. This increase alone lacks but 4 per cent of being equal to the total registrations of the United States six years ago.

In 1920 in the State of New York alone, the number of motor cars registered, including commercial vehicles exceeded the total cars registered in the whole of the United States in 1910. Furthermore the revenues derived from registration in the State of New York in 1920 were about equal to the entire registration revenues of the United States for 1913.

The use made of the revenues has changed with the passing of years. In 1906 the total registrations were approximately 48,000 cars, paying a gross revenue of about $193,000. (Arizona in 1920 paid approximately this amount.) In 1906 the gross registration revenues were equal to less than three-tenths of 1 per cent of the total rural road and bridge expenditures for that year.

The registration revenues in 1920 were equal to about 25 per cent of the total rural road and bridge expenditures for the calendar year 1919. In 1906 practically none of the motor vehicle revenues was applied to road maintenance or construction, while in 1920, 96 per cent, or a total of $97,997,160.60, was used for this purpose. The remaining 4 per cent not applied to road work was expended very largely for number plates and in carrying out the provisions of the motor vehicle registration laws in the several states. Of the total amount applied to road work, 79 per cent, or $77,531,582.71 was expended under the control or supervision of the several State Highway Departments. Increasing Amount Spent For Road Work

For a number of years the general tendency toward devoting an ever increasing portion of the motor vehicle revenues to road work under the control and direct supervision of the State Highway Department has been very noticeable. Prior to 1912 only a very small portion of the motor vehicle registration was devoted to this purpose. In 1920 76 per cent of the revenue or $77,531,582.71 was applied to road work under the direct supervision of the State Highway departments and in addition $20,465,578.04 was applied to road work by counties or other local supervision but with little or no direct supervision from the State Highway Departments.

In most States the motor-vehicle revenues are devoted to maintenance and repair of the State roads or other improved highways. These States seem to have solved fairly well the difficult problem of securing funds for the maintenance of the more important roads under the ever increasing traffic requirements. As both the traffic and revenues increase with the number of cars, there apparently exists a possibility of so adjusting the registration rates as to keep pace with the ever-growing maintenance changes. A number of the States having general but a small mileage of improved roads have recently adopted the plan of capitalizing the motor vehicle revenues and devoting these funds to road construction. The States doing this are Illinois, Maine, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, Utah and Wyoming. In them bonds have been voted or issued for road construction and the principal, in some instances also the interest is to be paid entirely from the motor vehicle revenue. Limit Load of Motor Trucks At the beginning of 1921 there were still seven States in which motor trucks were registered at the same rate as passenger cars, but in recent years there has been a very decided tendency in most States to increase fees required for motor trucks over and above those required for passenger cars. This increase is usually based on the weight of the truck and its carrying capacity, its horse power, or a combination of these factors. The most general practice seems to be toward definitely limiting the maximum total weight of the vehicle and basing the registration fee on the capacity of the truck. Some few States have adopted a scale of fees, which in actual practice, serves to make the operation of ery heavy trucks impracticable. In Colorado, New Mexico and Oregon, in addition to the registration fees, a state tax on gasoline or other products used for the propulsion of motor vehicles is also levied. In some States motor cars are taxed as personal property in addition to the required registration fees. In Oregon, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Vermont, the registration fees are in lieu of all personal property taxes.

FOR MEATLESS DAYS.
Combination Salmon Salad—Use one pound can salmon, three hard-boiled eggs, two heads good, firm lettuce, one small can peas and one-half cucumber.
Since the salmon lightly with a fork, cut the lettuce into fine shreds and mix both together lightly, then add the peas freed from all moisture and decorate with finely sliced cucumber and egg cut into rings.
Served with mayonnaise, this salad is very fine. Place on lettuce leaves. This quantity makes sixteen portions.
Salmon With Macaroni—Pick one can of salmon into small pieces. Make one pint of ordinary white sauce. Put a layer of boiled macaroni broken into inch lengths in the bottom of baking dish, next a layer of sauce, then a layer of salmon, continuing until dish is filled.
Sauce should come last and be sprinkled with buttered crumbs. Bake until brown.

TESTED RECIPES.
Baked Bean Salad—Take two cups of cold, baked beans with a quarter cup of the pork, diced. Add a cup of chopped celery, and toss in a French dressing made of one part oil, one part vinegar and one part catsup. The juice of an onion, salt, pepper, a teaspoonful of sugar and a tablespoonful of chopped gherkins. Serve in green lettuce leaves and garnish with brown bread toast fingers.

Cheese Fingers—Add two tablespoons grated cheese to the paste, divide into finger shaped strips, and bake more thoroughly than when to be opened and filled. If additional cheese is desired it may be sprinkled on after baking.

Cheese Relish—Spread bread which has been toasted or fried in deep fat with grated cheese, or with grated cheese mixed with a little mustard, then heat in oven until the cheese is melted. This may be served with salad or as a relish to give flavor to some dish, such as boiled rice or hominy which has no very marked flavor.

Potatoes and Cheese—To one-half cup scalded milk add two cups rice potatoes and beat until light and creamy. Add one teaspoon of salt, a dash of paprika and two well beaten eggs. Add one cup of grated cheese and mix thoroughly. Pour into buttered muffin tins and bake in a slow oven.

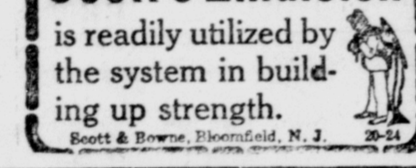

Vinegar Cake—Six whites of eggs with one and one-half cups sugar beaten stiff; six yolks of eggs with three teaspoons vinegar, one and one-half cups flour, one teaspoon orange flavoring.
Beat the eggs and fold together with the flour, but do not beat after mixing. Bake in a slow oven in a cake tin with a stem in the center.
Use a white boiled icing made of white of one egg-beaten with about two tablespoons sugar. Boil one cup sugar with a little water until it hairs from a spoon, then beat into the egg mixture.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

DICK DECIDES TO GO IT ALONE CHAPTER 116

It sound terribly heartless but when the story upon which Dick and Juanita had spent weeks of work was returned by no less than five editors I could not help feeling glad—although I took great pains not to show it. In fact I was sympathetic.

It had a peculiar effect upon Dick. The rejection of any work invariably depressed him for a time, but this turn down seemed to dishearten him altogether. One editor had said the plot was a "good one, but the treatment childish, uninteresting, ordinary." It was the same editor who had bought the previous story, which in a way accounted for Dick's disappointment.

"Do cheer up, Dick! You can't expect to write successes all the time," I tried to encourage. He had been either very silent, or cross as could be for days past. "You haven't spoken a pleasant word to me since that story came back. Don't take it so to heart."

"I guess I am pretty much of a grouch, Nan. But somehow I felt so sure Hapgood would take it. He spoke so very flatteringly in his letter about the other one." Hapgood was the name of the editor who had taken Dick's serious story.

"You wrote that alone." I could not help the reminder.

"I know!—and Nan, I guess I shall have to write alone. It worries me to have to tell Juanita so. Especially since she has given me several ideas that I am sure I can work up."

Dick went over to—Juanita's soon after our talk. He came back smiling "Well?" I asked, wondering.

"She was a brick. When I told her that I would have to work out my ideas in my own way, that I could not collaborate, she was bully. Offered to help me in any way she could, and even said she would efface herself permanently if necessary to my success."

I could not help thinking how simple Dick was. He repeated things Juanita said to him with all the naïveté of a child. Yet I knew she still held a strong attraction for him one not easily to be broken.

At times it seemed as if my punishment for what I had done in those past years was more than I could bear—even more than I deserved. Then I would picture Dick as he was when I first met him, and when I married him. Full of life and fun. Honest, faithful. Then I would think of him as he was when we left New York—broken, old ready and willing to pass out by his hand because of the ruin of his life—the ruin I had wrought. It was during such reminiscence that I felt no punishment was undeserved, no sacrifice too great for him.

I was doing remarkably well in my work. I now had a sizable bank account and often refused to contract for homes that would take me away from Dick, although he was so busy writing (and spending his leisure hours with Juanita) that I am not at all sure he would have missed me had I. We had a capable maid, and Junior was doing well in school. Had Dick loved me—or had I been able to believe he did, I should have been perfectly happy.

One day we had a talk about our finances. He had insisted upon running the house, et cetera. He was making money now—had sold two stories since he refused to work with Juanita—and he declared I had done my share while he was getting "whipped into harness."

"But, Dick, I want to keep on." I pleaded, "You see, dear, it is perhaps a woman's place to keep the home. But I do not take that attitude. I feel that so long as the home is kept as well as the wife herself could keep it, if she can earn money at something more congenial it should be her privilege to use part of what she earns to pay for what she would ordinarily do herself."

We finally compromised. Dick was to pay the interest on the mortgage, and buy all the food. I would pay for the maid, and the various improvements, et cetera. It was an equitable division, and I was very happy over it. Then too it made Dick feel better. I had realized that he often felt belittled because of the necessity for using my earnings, and that he sometimes might have been a bit hurt because I earned more than he did. This settlement would prevent anything of the sort.

"What about Junior?" Dick had asked. Up to this time I had paid all his bills.

"Let me attend to him."

"Not I will pay his tuition and dress him. You may give him his spending money, but don't spoil him."

Tomorrow—Juanita Boasts.

The Vatican at Rome Recommends Nuxated Iron

If you lack BODILY or MENTAL VIGOR; If you are WEAK; NERVOUS or IRRITABLE, TRY NUXATED IRON TODAY.

Nuxated Iron CONTAINS ORGANIC IRON LIKE THE IRON IN YOUR BLOOD AND LIKE THE IRON IN SPINACH, LENTILS AND APPLES.

NUXATED IRON also contains a remarkable product, brought to the attention of the French Academy of Medicine by the celebrated Dr. Robin, which represents the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force FOR FEEDING THE NERVES, so that NUXATED IRON might be said to be both a BLOOD and a NERVE FOOD.

THERE ARE 30,000,000,000 RED BLOOD CORPUSCLES in your blood and each one must have iron.

Today about one person out of every three is said to suffer more or less from the great devitalizing weakness brought on by malnutrition or lack of sufficient nourishment; which is caused NOT BY LACK OF FOOD but often by LACK OF SUFFICIENT ORGANIC IRON in the blood to enable us to GET THE STRENGTH OUT OF our food.

IRON IS THE MASTER PRINCIPLE OF THE BLOOD AND BLOOD IS LIFE. Our forefathers ate the husks of grains and the skins and peels of vegetables and fruits, rich in strength-giving organic iron, but modern methods of cooking throw all these things away—hence the alarming increase, in recent years, in Anaemia—iron starvation of the blood with all its attendant ills.

When, as a result of iron starvation, you get up feeling tired in the morning, when you find yourself nervous, irritable and easily upset; when you can no longer do your day's work without being all fagged out at night; when your digestion all goes wrong, or you have pains across the back, shortness of breath, heart palpitation or your face looks pale and drawn, don't wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration, until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but consult your family physician and have him take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood-count" of your red blood corpuscles or test the iron-power of your blood yourself by adding plenty of spinach, carrots, or other iron-containing fruits and vegetables to your daily food and take organic iron—Nuxated Iron—with them for a while and see how much your condition improves. Thousands of people have surprisingly increased their strength, energy and endurance in two weeks time by this simple experiment. But be sure the iron you take is organic. Nuxated Iron and not metallic iron which people usually take and which is made merely by the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron—an entirely different iron from Nuxated Iron. The fact that you may have taken metallic iron without receiving any benefit does not prove that Nuxated Iron will not help you. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly concentrated form that one dose is estimated to be approximately equal to equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating half a quart of spinach or one quart of green vegetables. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. Nuxated Iron is used by over 4,000,000 people annually.

Beware of substitutes. Look for the letters N.I. on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. At all druggists.

WHAT THE VATICAN SAYS ABOUT NUXATED IRON

"I am happy to inform you that your gift of Nuxated Iron has been accepted with particular gratitude by the Holy Father, who, persuaded by its beneficial effects, and AFTER HAVING IT SPECIALLY ANALYZED BY THE DIRECTOR OF THE PHARMACY OF THE VATICAN, formulates the most sincere wishes that your product may become famous and be as appreciated by the public AS ITS VALUE CERTAINLY MERITS."

REVOLUTION IN RUSSIA CAN BE BUT SHORT ONE

—Declares Trotsky

Mutiny Will Soon Collapse Despite Armed Forces.

FIRST INTERVIEW

Says Trouble Caused By Political Parties With No Standing.

Moscow, March 11.—By wireless to Berlin, March 16.—"The Kronstadt mutiny will soon have collapsed regardless of the fact that the mutineers possess heavy artillery," declared Leon Trotsky, Peoples Commissar for war in the Russian soviet government, who arrived here today from the "Petrograd front," where he has been directing the operation of red troops against the rebels.

Trotsky was in front of General staff headquarters on his way to confer with Generals of the army when he was interviewed for the International News Service. This is the first interview Trotsky has given out since the uprising occurred at Kronstadt, and because of his position in the cabinet, it is of the utmost importance.

Trotsky said:

Situation Clear.

"It is impossible to understand the Kronstadt events unless taken in conjunction with our internal and external situation. Our economic situation after six and one half years of war is well known. We have published frank statistical statements. We do not consider it necessary to conceal our actual conditions from our workers, from our country, or from our friends, and our enemies, in other countries.

"Quite naturally these parties, which two or three times before gave demonstration of their bankruptcy should try to revive themselves by exploiting conditions of the present moment of the workers revolution. I am speaking of social revolutionaries and mensheviks who, unable to play an independent role, are unable to obtain or maintain themselves in power. They have considerable social foundation. They are trying to be the banana peel on which the working class would slip into counter revolution against the soviets.

Personnel Changes.

"As to the rising, the Baltic fleet represents that part of our country most exposed. During the past two years the personnel of the fleet had changed greatly. The best elements were taken out and transferred to other branches of soviet work and were supplanted by casual elements among which were many representatives of our border nationalities who regarded their service in fact as temporary work. The transitory conditions and unstable personnel of the fleet created an unfavorable atmosphere and gave opportunity for smuggling into the fleet elements that were openly hostile.

"The masses of sailors formulated demands which originally did not exceed the demands presented by various groups of laborers to the soviet government. The revolutionaries utilized these demands as a fulcrum for their lever. Behind their backs purposely emerged the figures of revolutionary officers.

Keep on Working.

"The broad masses of the Kronstadt proposition kept on working without understanding the acuteness of the conflict. Kronstadt, being located upon the gulf of Finland stands at the gateway from which the world's highways lead to the imperialist countries. At the white guard officers became active. The counter revolutionary agents in the Baltic at once began to establish a contact with Kronstadt. The original leaders of the movement became badly frightened and began to complain of the growing influence of the counter revolutionary military officers, but then it was too late.

"Quite obviously after the ice is gone from the gulf of Finland the counter revolutionaries could remove our vessels and deliver them into the hands of the imperialists as they did in the Black Sea if the Baltic fleet fell into the hands of the rebels.

"Knowing this we presented an ultimatum to the mutineers and then applied armed force. There is no doubt that the mutiny will have collapsed within a short time regardless of the fact that the mutineers possess heavy artillery."

THREE ACES AND PAT FLUSH START FATAL SHOOTING

Fremont, Neb., March 16.—Richard Dunkle held three aces in the poker game and thought that was enough to win the pot. Ross Wickersham, however, laid down a pat flush and raked in the winnings.

Dunkle was so enraged, a witness testified at the trial of Dunkle for the slaying of Wickersham that he started an argument which resulted in the fatal shooting of the winner.

ARMENIAN CONFESSES

Followed Former Official From Constantinople To Berlin.

Berlin, March 16.—Talaat Pasha, former Turkish minister, who was assassinated yesterday, died as the result of a murder pact entered into more than a year ago according to a confession made to the police today by Salomon Telirian, the young Armenian, who fired the fatal shot.

"I swore a solemn oath that I would kill Talaat Pasha whom I need to be responsible for much of the suffering of my fellow people," said the assassin.

"I made solemn oath to call down the bloody vengeance of heaven upon his head. I was prepared to follow him around the world. He could not escape me no matter what city he went to nor what disguise he used to cover his identity. I knew that his heart's blood belonged to me and I only waited for the sacrifice. Talaat Pasha signed a decree which resulted in a massacre of Armenians and my mother and father were killed by Turkish soldiers. Is it any wonder that I held this grudge.

"Talaat Pasha disappeared from Constantinople but I had my own sources of information and I learned that he was in Berlin. I secured a passport—no matter how—and I came here. I frequented the Turkish quarter and it did not take me long to find out that the old enemy of my family was living here, under an assumed name. He lived very quietly and went out but seldom. He feared assassins. It was in January that I arrived here. I took my time and planned the murder carefully. I was not going to allow all my plans to be spoiled by one false step. Everything came out just as I ordered it."

Telirian said he was born at Salaman, Persia.

The prisoner was badly beaten by a crowd after the shooting and sustained severe injuries in the head but will recover.

EXPECT JURY WILL GET HAMON CASE EARLY THURSDAY

Prosecution Will Not Ask Death Penalty, Announced.

Ardmore, Okla., March 16.—"We will not ask the death penalty for Clara," Attorney General Freeling publicly confirmed today for the first time.

Both the prosecution and defense expect to finish their rebuttal evidence today.

"It looks now as if the case will go to the jury tomorrow," said Attorney General Freeling.

Sam Blair, newspaper correspondent, who found the accused woman in Mexico, probably will be the first witness called by the state this morning.

The usual crowds were seeking entrance to the court room long before court opened.

Attorneys for both prosecution and defense announced they expect to close rebuttal evidence before afternoon. Court may then adjourn, they say, to prepare instructions to the jury.

DAMAGED LINER ENROUTE TO PORT

COLLISION WITH STEAMSHIP OFF ATLANTIC CITY IN FOG IS REPORTED.

New York, March 16.—The United States Army transport Madawaska, which was badly damaged in a collision with the Shipping Board steamship, Invincible twenty miles off Atlantic City, in a dense fog last night early today was making her way to this port, according to wireless advices reaching here. The Madawaska, inbound from Manila by way of San Francisco, had 46 passengers aboard. The captain stated last night that he would transfer these passengers early today to some other ship but latest advices indicated the passengers were still aboard the transport.

Feeling Reaches Fever Heat As Hamon Case Nears End

Death Threats Have Been Passed, and Principals Go About Armed In Ardmore—Court Room Jammed As Evidence Is Nearly Completed.

Courtroom, Ardmore, Okla., March 16.—Ardmore sat on a powder keg today as the Clara Smith Hamon murder trial was resumed.

"Bad blood" starting at yesterday's demonstration for the woman accused of Jake L. Hamon's murder, reached a fever heat as court reconvened today.

Death threats have been passed. Lawyers, principals and even newspaper correspondents have been warned to go about fully armed. Deputy sheriffs wearing huge guns on their hips, are stationed carefully about the courtroom, but with a cool intent of having "good shooting" angles.

All out of town persons who have had any connection with the trial are preparing to leave on the first train out after the verdict.

The death threats were received by Jake Hamon, 18 year old son of the head oil king, and the brothers of the accused woman.

Murder fans were tense with excitement when court opened.

"It was the hardest thing I have ever had to go through and I'm so relieved it's all over," said Clara Smith Hamon on entering the courtroom. She referred to the four hours she spent on the witness stand.

"Oh, it was only all over!"

The love letters of Jake Hamon to Clara were barred from evidence by Judge Thomas W. Champion this morning. Attorney General S. P. Freeling objected to their admission on the ground that the dead man could not be called as a witness to explain them.

When court opened at 9 o'clock the room was jammed as usual. The feminine part of the audience displayed the latest spring styles in millinery.

Many had been sitting in the courtroom since 6 o'clock and had brought their breakfasts.

On the opening of court, Sam Blair, the newspaperman who found the accused woman in Mexico, was the first witness called by the state in rebuttal.

CEDARVILLE WOMAN MEETS INSTANT DEATH WHEN CRUSHED BY HEAVY FARM WAGON

Miss Dora Glass, Victim Of Unusual Accident On Brother's Farm

Caught between a heavy farm wagon and the barn, while she was assisting in manipulating the vehicle into the building, Miss Dora Glass, 45, of seven miles northeast of Cedarville, was horribly crushed and died instantly, at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Glass, who was assisting her brother Frank, who had just brought in a load of corn, in getting the wagon backed into the barn. She was driving the horses from the ground beside the wagon. As one wheel struck the barn floor, it seems that the wagon veered, and the horses carried it around against the side of the barn pinning Miss Glass between the vehicle and the side of the barn.

Death was immediately due to a broken neck, which the unfortunate woman sustained. She was horribly crushed by the heavy wagon, however, her jaw bone being split, her skull fractured, her chest crushed and both ears practically torn off. Her brother, Frank, was a witness to her death, but was unable to avert the accident that caused it.

Miss Glass was born near Jamestown but had spent most of her life near Cedarville. She was the daughter of J. W. Glass, well known farmer in that section who survives with three sisters and three brothers, her mother being dead. The surviving brothers and sisters are Mrs. Raleigh Davids of Bowersville, George W. Glass of Cedarville, Elmer of Springfield, and Frank, Misses Daisy and Grace at home. She was a member of the Church of Christ at Gladstone, and had hosts of friends in the vicinity.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the late home, and burial will be made at Jamestown.

CAUCUS OF REPUBLICAN HOUSE MEMBERS AGREES TO PASS DUNN MEASURE

Bill To Reorganize State Departments, To Become Law Immediately.

Citizens' Taxation Committee Report Transmitted To Legislature

Columbus, O., March 16.—In caucus, Republican house members agreed to pass the Dunn bill, reorganizing the state departments, in the form in which it is reported by the house reorganization committee. It is understood that the measure is to be passed Friday and that it will contain an emergency clause making it effective as law as soon as it passes the senate and is approved by Governor Davis.

The bill will be subject of committee hearings in the senate it is said.

Complying with the governor's request the house will reduce the number of departments to eight and from nine by eliminating the proposed department of examinations.

Urges New Policy.

Declaring that adoption of a pay-as-you-go policy in state, city, county and other political subdivisions "is imperative" and stating that continuation of the present plan of taxation in Ohio would mean "our complete forgetfulness and disregard of our responsibilities to posterity and the passing to our children as their heritage of a crushing debt problem," Governor Davis transmitted to the state legislature copies of the report made to him by his recent citizens' taxation committee.

The governor's committee recommended submission of a proposed amendment to the state constitution abolishing the uniform rule of taxation, providing for tax limitations on real estate and requiring enactment of an income tax.

Expressing hope that the present legislature will try to provide a satisfactory remedy for Ohio's taxation ills, the governor said that ineffectiveness of the prevailing taxation system is due to failure to enact a debt limitation law when the Smith 1 per cent law was passed to increased cost of labor and operating expenses in government and to failure to enforce the uniform rule.

Refer Resolution.

The senate has referred to its rules committee the Crabbe joint resolution, unanimously adopted by the house last week, providing for sine die adjournment on March 31.

Senator Whittemore, Akron, Republican floor leader, announced that the senate will stay on the job and constantly perform the duties entrusted to it. He said the house members know it is impossible to give proper consideration in the senate by March 31 to the important measures which the upper legislative branch will be called upon to pass.

Defeating the emergency clause, the house, by a vote of 91 to 13, passed the McCoy bill prohibiting exhibition of immoral motion pictures and movies depicting any form of crime. The bill goes to the senate.

MACHINERY OF NEW PUMPING STATION TESTED

Pumps Set in Operation Tuesday For First Time.

STARTS ON MONDAY

Fresh Supply Will Be Sent To Consumers Next Week.

Xenia's new water pumping station at the municipal water works at Old Town was baptized Tuesday afternoon, with the first draught of the new supply that spells for Xenia pure and fresh water in place of the chlorine-loaded water that citizens have had to bear for several years.

In the presence of a gathering composed of City Commissioners and other officials, engineers and interested citizens, the new electric pumps were set to work shortly before two o'clock pulsing with the new and abundant supply that means emancipation for Xenia citizens from the semi-contaminated water of the past.

Wednesday morning, workmen began to clean out the stand pipe, which because of the low water supply from the two old stations, has not been cleaned out for some time. The big tank will be emptied and thoroughly cleaned out and then filled with the new water. The new water supply also makes possible the flushing of the city mains and all fire plugs and end ends will be opened and the lines thoroughly flushed.

Starts on Monday

Next Monday, the new water supply will be started permanently, and with the mains and the stand pipe cleaned out, the first strikes of the pumps will be felt. The new station, will mean that within a few hours, all trace of the chlorinated old water will have passed and the new and pure supply will be available from then on.

Engineers who designed the new water station, advised against the sudden filling of all the basins Tuesday. The pumps were turned on to insure that they were in working order and to show the operation of the plant, but the reservoirs were not allowed to fill from the new water, but will be filled gradually. This move was advised by Phillip Burgess, of Burgess & Niple consulting hydraulic engineers of Columbus, who designed the station.

The new water station is smaller than either the old Cincinnati avenue station or the Springfield pike station. It is located back of the mill of the DeWine Milling Company, north of Old Town, and is of brick and concrete construction. It was designed by Burgess & Niple and was built by the Loyd Contracting Company of this city.

Set Deep in Ground
The power pumps are set deep in the ground or what might be termed the basement, where they draw the water from the one well being used now, fifty feet away. Two 16 horse power pumps, each with a pumping capacity of 700 gallons a minute, draw the water from the wells to the plant. Running from holes in heavy cast iron pipes, the water is aerated outside, by passing over charcoal beds, which breaks up the water units and forms a large part of the water's ingredients.

Filtered Through Sand
Here the water churns through pure white cleaning sand that causes the iron to precipitate, and removes water from foreign matter, and impurities. These sand basins overflow through pipes to the creek outside of the building and is carried off. When the water in the basins is pure it settles into the large basin underneath which holds 20,000 gallons of pure, clean water.

From this basin the water is picked up and sent, charging through the mains into the city. A 100-horse power pump with a 700 gallon per minute capacity, adds the force that sends the water through mains, and the pump is supplemented by another 100-horse power pump, with a 200-gallon per minute booster capacity, that is added to the city pressure power when needed to increase the force against any head necessary.

With both of these pumps in operation, a 900 gallon per minute capacity is attained, which insures 54,000 gallons of water an hour or 1,296,000 gallons of clean, pure water every 24 hours. This amount, of course, is considerably more than the city needs, but insures adequate water for fire protection and any other time of need. Added to this supply are 270,000 gallons of water. This being the amount the stand pipe holds which holds which is always available for a reserve supply.

270,000 Gallons in Reserve.

Should the water supply from the station at Old Town, be cut off, the 270,000 gallons of water available in the stand pipe, would furnish the city with more than six hours supply of water under the maximum domestic draft. Of course should this supply be cut off during the night, the draft would be light, and the reserve supply would stretch over a longer period. Under the maximum fire draft, it is considered that two fire streams would be thrown from the booster pump apparatus on the White fire truck, throwing a maximum of water. In this event, should the supply be cut off, the supply in the stand pipe, would be sufficient for over four hours.

The setting of the new pumps into action, Tuesday afternoon, marked the realization of a dream upon the part of the citizens and of the city authorities. Since the city purchased the plants of the privately owned Xenia Water Company, the development of a new supply, and the construction of a new and efficient plant, has been the aim of the administration. Spurred on by the complaints of citizens regarding the ill-tasting water, and urged in even stronger terms by the State Board of Health, the work was rushed to conclusion, and the starting of the pumps, marks the realization.

Manager Present.

Leonard Griesbaum, district manager of the Dravo-Doyle company of Indianapolis, the firm that furnished the pumps and motors, was present at the starting of the pumps Tuesday, and examined them as they were in operation. He will return to this city Monday, when the pumps are started permanently, and when the old machinery in the old Cincinnati pike and Springfield pike stations will be cut off permanently. Within a few hours after the supply is stopped and the new supply started, Xenia water patrons will be drinking their first of the new water supply.

City ownership has made the water supply and the new plant a possibility, and city ownership has also introduced efficiency in the construction of the new plant, that will make the municipal water works a real paying proposition, according to city officials. The saving in the operation of the water works, through the use of electrically operated pumps, will be $13,000 a year, it is claimed.

In the party that inspected the new plant Tuesday were City Manager Kenyon Riddle, City Auditor J. H. Zell, City Commissioner J. Thorb Charters, C. S. Frazer, Dr. A. D. De Haven and Arthur Whalen, Leonard Griesbaum, district manager of the Dravo-Doyle Company, of Indianapolis, Philip Burgess, of the engineering firm of Burgess & Niple of Columbus, Smith & Foster, engineers of Dayton, who were engineers for the city during the paving work last year, J. H. Loyd and E. S. Davidson, of the Loyd Contracting Company, which constructed the water plant, Dr. R. H. Grube, City Health Officer, who has been active in the campaign for better water, Secretary P. J. Slackford of the Chamber of Commerce, a number of interested citizens and newspapermen.

ENGLISH LABOR WOMEN TO HOLD

London.—Under the auspices of the Labor Party, the Annual Conference of Women will take place in Manchester on April 27 and 28.

Representatives will attend from every women's organization in the United Kingdom and there will also be present representatives from all national organizations affiliated to the Labor Party, which include women members.

All the delegates will be women and it is expected that at least 600 will attend the conference.

This is the first time that a conference of labor women has been held on so large a scale out of London, and it is believed that the central position of Manchester will be of great advantage in bringing women delegates from the North.

TO GET OUR MONEY'S WORTH

She Knows Slump Is Over Cake to Curtains Careless Spenders Americans Do Read

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

The public is beginning to buy more freely. Let us be thankful. This will renew business activities and make better times for all of us.

But the slump in buying, out of which we are emerging, has not been without its usefulness. It has sobered us, after our fling at reckless spending, and brought us back to the good old practice of demanding our money's worth.

As a nation, we have been accused of being careless spenders. Perhaps we are—at times. We have not been taught, by hard necessity, the full meaning of thrift.

Yet the fact remains that we are the most skilled shoppers in the world. We waste less time at shopping, and do our buying with more intelligence, than any other people. We know how to make a dollar do its full duty when we set our mind to it.

This is not to pride ourselves on a superior trading instinct. European peoples could teach us much on this score. But our shopping methods are superior.

It is a significant fact that Americans read more and better advertising than do the people of any other nation. And advertising has formulated our buying habits.

It has given us a short cut to intelligent buying.

Some ninety per cent of all the buying for homes, in this country, is done by women. The American woman is a voracious reader of advertising. And in all the realm of civilized people there are none who can compare with her for a broad knowledge of merchandise. On almost every commodity one could mention, from cake floors to curtains for her living room, she has ideas—ideas that aid her skill in buying.

She knows prices—she studies them diligently in the department store and other advertisements.

Better still, she knows values. It is difficult to fool her in these days on the quality one has a right to expect in a bottle of catsup. She knows what makes for durability in a rug. She has good taste with respect to furniture and personal attire.

Advertising has helped her in all this. It has taken her behind the scenes—shown her how merchandise is made, and set for her a standard of value.

It is not to be wondered at, therefore, that advertising has come to be more and more a shopping guide. It is our best protection against goods of uncertain quality—our best assistance in seeing to it that we get our money's worth.

We are a nation of skilled shoppers, because we have a system for buying with our eyes wide open. When we squander, we do so wilfully and perversely.

Today we are demanding our money's worth.

This is a good sign. For, not how much, but how wisely one spends determines the prosperity of any individual. And the same thing holds true for a whole nation of individuals.

GLAD OF THE DAY I FIRST FOUND DRECO

Relieved stomach disorder, constipation and biliousness promptly.

"It was a lucky day for me when I decided to take Dreco, for I'm now entirely well," never have gas in stomach, bowels act daily and my liver has been cleaned off," stated Mr. P. Livingston residing on Main St., Marion, Ind.

SPEAKERS DEPICT XENIA AS CITY BEAUTIFUL AT MEET

A picture of Xenia, a city beautiful, with playgrounds and recreation centers for the youth, and pretty parking places that might contribute to making this city one of the prettiest in the state, was painted by orators at the Town Meeting held at the Opera House Tuesday night in the interests of city beautification and under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

More than 300 people, braved the threatening storm that later broke in torrents, to attend the meeting, at which time there was born a plan to conduct a campaign for funds to carry on the beautification work suggested, and which gathered hearty endorsement from the applause of the people on hand. A fund of $2,500, of which $2,000 will be used in planting and $500 for upkeep, will probably be the aim of the organizers of the movement, to provide money to carry out the plans.

In the absence of Attorney C. L. Darlington, who was called out of the city, Dr. B. R. McClellan acted as chairman of the meeting. In his brief talk he made a plea for playgrounds and recreation centers for the children. In the course of his talk he pictured small boys playing ball in the narrow confines of back yards, with the neighbor's window glass in imminent danger and he alluded to the physical and moral benefit from a good clean, out of door life, such as would be provided Xenia children in play centers of this nature.

"Xenia ought not to stop until provisions are made in the East End, the North End, the West End and the South End, for adequate playgrounds for children of all classes, rich or poor," said Dr. McClellan. "You cannot have good brains, without good brawn. You cannot have a good nervous system without a good muscular system. The boy or girl who lives an out of door life has the best control of himself or herself and Xenia should not give up until these things are assured."

Dr. McClellan introduced E. H. Freudenberger, Dayton landscape gardener, who through the use of colored stereopticon views, pointed out the difference in homely sites after the planting of flowers and shrubbery. The pictures of the running story told by Freudenberger, showed the proper forms of planting, and the way to plant to get the best results. His pictures of Dayton community playgrounds where the children of that city, have an overwhelming advantage over the children of Xenia, only served to emphasize Dr. McClellan's plea for the youth.

Dr. A. M. Patterson, introduced lastly by Dr. McClellan, presented a series of slides of more local interest. Pictures taken of some of Xenia's streets before they were improved, and pictures of the same streets since the paving work has been finished pointed out concrete examples of how improvements of this nature affect beauty. The views explained by Dr. Patterson, also showed certain sections of the city now little more than eye sores, and the same sections as they would appear with the addition of a little greenery. A view of North Detroit street, with shrubbery planted along the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad Springfield branch is soon to come true, said Dr. Patterson, as the railroad has promised to carry on such plans for shrubbery planting in the section.

Dr. Patterson gave an interesting retrospect of the foundation of the welfare work in Xenia as it now is. In the spring of 1914, according to his story, a Welfare League was started for the purpose of carrying on a spring cleanup. This was the beginning of the system of annual spring cleanups. Later one committee of this League developed into the Social Service League, another committee composed of business men, developed into the Xenia Business Men's Association, and later the Chamber of Commerce. The League arranged for band concerts that summer, held two lectures on landscape gardening, was instrumental in the beautification of the Masonic Temple lot, now occupied by the Standard Oil Filling Station and in getting the Pennsylvania railroad to make a park of the empty section along South Detroit street opposite the Xenia Shoe Manufacturing Company.

While the pictures were shown in connection with the meeting were interesting the failure of the electric power of the Dayton Power & Light Company on two different occasions, interrupted the showing of the slides.

'T WAS A STORMY NIGHT; BLACKNESS RULED SUPREME

The Dayton Power & Light Company had its troubles in large measure Tuesday night.

With the approach of the storm which swept over this section, with a severe electrical display, and other features of the summer's mad elements, the lights in Xenia began going on and off with maddening regularity.

Shortly after 9:30 o'clock, the lights popped out for a long rest, and it was twenty minutes before power was resumed. The darkness was caused by the blowing out of a feeder at the generation station of the company at Miller's Ford, near Dayton, and it was necessary to shut down the entire plant until it could be re-insulated.

Street car service was impaired by the lack of power and the city car was stranded on East Main street. Picture theaters here, were not annoyed by the failure of the power, because both have their own power stations. Business houses that have no gas provisions however, were cast in darkness and at the dancing school in the Knights of Pythias Castle, dancers were forced to abandon their steps until candles could be found.

In Dayton, the theaters used candles for footlights, and lanterns were brought into play, while members of the companies entertained the audience during the period of darkness.

FOUR APPLICATIONS FOR MANAGER'S JOB ARE RECEIVED

Akron Man and Wife Are Both Restored to Health By Taking Tanlac.

"My wife and I are great advocates of Tanlac now and call it our family medicine," said J. S. McGone, of 120 Market St., Akron, Ohio, well-known employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"My wife and I have both been in bad health for a year or more, suffering from stomach trouble. Every time I ate anything I nearly always wished I hadn't touched a bit. For I would turn almost deathly sick at my stomach and at night I couldn't get any rest hardly and often had terrible nightmares. Dizzy spells struck me at times and I couldn't catch cold of something I would fall to the floor."

"My wife had indigestion so bad she couldn't enjoy a single meal. She had little or no appetite, was all run-down and so weak it would nearly break her down trying to do the housework."

"We started taking Tanlac at the same time and both of us commenced improving so fast it seemed like a race between us to see which one would get well first. We took four bottles apiece and today we are in the best of health. She can do the housework with ease and looks like a different person. I have the finest kind of appetite, eat anything I like and feel as spry and healthy as when I was a boy. We are both only too glad to speak a good word for Tanlac. It's got the world beat, that's all."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill, in Yellow Springs by A. Haas, antskrof-easingeandlygdBeh meiste, Fairfield, Paul P. Young, Osborn, C. J. Logsdon, New Burlington W. C. Smith.

PROPERTY SALE INVOLVING MILLION DOLLARS IS MADE

A property sale involving a million dollars was consummated Tuesday when 4,330 acres of land in Madison county, owned by the Houston Farm Company and the L. H. and E. D. Houston estates, was sold to Charles Lewis, Upper Sandusky banker, according to Lawrence Laybourne, Springfield attorney, and one of the trustees of the estates.

The sale marks the first step by the Houston interest toward the liquidation of the affairs of the Houston bank at South Charleston, which closed its doors last November, with liabilities totalling more than half a million dollars. Approximately 2,900 acres of the tract sold Tuesday was owned by the Houston Farm Company and the remainder was owned by the estate, proper. It was conveyed, however, as one tract. Of the purchase price, $350,000 was paid in cash by the new owners and mortgage notes on sixteen different tracts were accepted as payment for the remaining $650,000.

Since the Houston bank is one of the largest creditors of the Farm Company, the sale will enable the farm company to repay to the bank loans which were obtained prior to the closing of the bank and which it has since been unable to meet. Because of the legal intricacies involved, it is not known how soon the affairs of the bank will be in such shape that payments of its creditors can begin.

It is understood that the new owner of the property, has had it surveyed and will divide it into farm properties of ordinary size.

MORE FINES FOR UNLAWFUL HUNTING

Washington, D. C., March 16.—Apprehended for shooting four pintail ducks out of season, a Missouri hunter on March 7, 1921, was fined $200 and costs by Federal Judge Van Valkenburg, sitting at St. Joseph, Mo. This sentence follows closely upon the conviction of a hunter in New Jersey before a Federal Judge, by whom he was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to jail for 10 days.

The spring flight of migratory birds is at its height during April, and the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture is putting forth every effort to see that they are permitted to go north to their nesting grounds unmolested. Due to the active cooperation of Federal game wardens and State authorities, fewer violations of the Federal law are occurring this spring than formerly. Nevertheless, some unscrupulous hunters are taking a chance; arrests for shooting out of season are being made by the game wardens and convictions are being obtained in nearly all cases.

$10 to $22.50

"The values will surprise you!"

"How are you able to do it?" honestly asked one Mother this week. She was puzzled when we displayed a boy's suit at $16.50 that she later whispered, had been shown in another store—not an hour before—marked $20. Same identical pattern. It's no secret how we do it folks—or that we are doing it. We are not paying less—we are taking less profit.

We are not charging all we could—we are getting all the business we can. And as long as we can keep up the stream of new customers that walked into this store for Boys Suits last week—we are going to undersell the city by $3 to $5 a suit! A FOUR MONTHS subscription to the American Boy Magazine free with each suit.

HOW OUR "JOLLY TARS" WOULD ENJOY DOING THIS NEXT 4th OF JULY.

Nine German warships will be used as targets by the United States navy early next summer. It is an excellent use to make of German warships. The targets consist of one battleship, one cruiser, three destroyers and four submarines. They are part of the big fleet surrendered by Germany after the armistice, and by agreement with the allies must be destroyed before August 9. The navy department has announced that the rite will be celebrated with due éclat sometime between June 1 and July 15. It need cause no surprise if it occurs on July 4. No doubt the American gunners and aviators would relish such practice on that day.

The experiment should result in valuable information, particularly along the line of aerial attack. It has been a much debated problem, in this country as in England, whether battleships were not obsolete because they were too easy and vulnerable marks for air bombs. Tests made with one old American battleship are not regarded as having settled the problem. They smashed things up pretty well above deck, but did no harm below. Naval aviators will see if they can do better with the German battleship Ostfriesland and the cruiser Frankfurt, and also with the obsolete American battleship Iowa, and probably the smaller craft.

The bombs will weigh from 500 to 1,000 pounds and will be dropped from seaplanes going at full speed at a height of nearly a mile. The tests will all be under battle conditions, with the targets in motion, directed by wireless. Any craft not sunk by air bombs will be assailed by gunfire. If that fails, depth charges will be used.

It need cause no surprise if these tests result in a new impetus for the development of the air service, and a curtailment of costly battleship construction. More than 1,000 bombing planes can be built for the price of one modern battleship; and however unequal the contest may be between a battleship and a single bombing plane, nobody imagines that the most powerful dreadnought afloat could beat 1,000 of them.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S FOREIGN POLICY IN A NUTSHELL

President Harding has only reiterated what has been accepted everywhere as America's final judgment and position on the league question. America can enter into no political commitments nor assume any economic obligations which will subject our decisions to any other than our own authority. At the same time "we are ready to associate ourselves with the nations of the world, great and small, for conference, for counsel, to seek the expressed views of world opinion, to recommend a way to approximate disarmament and relieve the crushing burdens of military and naval establishments." So far as that position opens the way to international action the United States is ready to discuss what the action shall be and the means for taking it.

WHERE TIMES ARE REALLY HARD.

One way to alleviate the thought of "hard times" in this country is to reflect a little on the conditions that prevail in China and the near East where millions of persons are threatened with starvation and where, in the latter country, thousands are reported to be dying every day for lack of food.

America has gone through many periods when business and employment conditions were worse than at present. But this country has not yet seen the day when it was inclined to turn a deaf ear to the cry of real sufferers in other lands. General Wood has called upon the American people to make a Lenten sacrifice in behalf of the long stricken peoples of the near East, and the needs of the larger numbers of famine victims in China are daily being presented.

LEARN TODAY'S LESSON.

Any school boy knows what it means to fall behind in his class work. If through absence or indolence he leaves today's lesson unlearned, tomorrow's becomes twice as difficult. And at examination time, the neglected lesson, unless it has been made up, may mean an utter failure.

One of the lessons we study daily is the lesson of history—not the history of the past, but the history of today. And if we do not study it daily, in the only place it is to be found—the newspapers—we soon fall behind in an important department of knowledge.

You will be abler, keener, better fit for your daily tasks if you read the newspapers, not occasionally, but every day, reflecting on what you read and letting nothing of importance escape your daily attention. The newspapers are made up by men trained in bringing together all the most important of the world's happenings and condensing them so that you can grasp them with little difficulty. It is your history of the most interesting of all the periods of the world's history—the times in which you are living.

You can get an excellent education by reading the newspapers attentively and following up the suggestions that come to you while reading them. If you do not read them, and read them carefully, you will always be rusty and behind the times, though you have taken all the degrees the greatest university can confer.

U. S. SAILOR WAS TORTURED BY BOLSHEVIKI IN RUSSIA

Brookfield, Mo.—Francis Foreman, a sailor in the U. S. Navy, revealed while on a visit to his home here a story of unspeakable torture while held a prisoner by the Bolsheviki in Russia. Foreman, serving his fourth year in the navy, was captured while carrying a navy message. His companion was shot and Foreman taken prisoner.

The Brookfield had destroyed the message. His captors then subjected him to a series of tortures in an effort to compel him to reveal its contents. His feet were burned with lighted candles and his chest branded with hot irons. He was held a captive for three months, during which time he lost 95 pounds.

Foreman is now recuperating at an army hospital in Colorado.

VAMPIRE WITH KAYO KISS TRIED SMACK ON WRONG MAN

Chicago.—"All men are boobs," was Cleopatra's Hurttman's philosophy. But Cleopatra has changed her mind as she sits in her detention home cell awaiting a stay of ten years to life in prison.

It was the boob who refused to stay a boob that put Cleopatra there. Like a number of other good men and true, Richard Jacker became a victim of Cleopatra's coy ways and was lured to the door of her West Side apartment. There as paradise was about to descend to earth in one of Cleopatra's kisses, Jacker, like several others, received a knockout blow from a blackjack. When he regained his equilibrium, eight dollars and his watch were gone. Also his confidence in Cleopatra. For a week Jacker patrolled the downtown corner where he had met the pretty "lure." Finally one night he saw her. Then came the police and trial for Cleopatra. A number of other "boobs" also testified against her.

MOTORAIDS

If you have a casing the fabric of which has a weak spot, a properly applied reliner or even inside patch is capable of reinforcing the tire. Such a weakness is likely caused by a stone bruise.

The reliner may delay the blowing out of the casing at this point for a long period. Some casings show indications of structural weakness considerably before their threads wear through or become detached, and in such an instance, a complete reliner may make them wear much longer.

Some owners put reliners in tires after they have nearly run their guaranteed mileage, even though they do not show a weakness and it is a good idea to so strengthen your tires when they have run the expected mileage.

Is It Yours?

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF James Madison March 16, 1751.

The fourth President of the United States, James Madison, was born in Virginia in 1751. His father was the owner of large estates there, so he received an excellent education. His first idea was to study for the ministry, and he was taking theology at Princeton when he gradually drifted into the political tangles of the Colonies.

His work during the Revolution was entirely political. Madison had the mind of a statesman. From the time he was 24 years old, when he became chairman of a committee on public safety for his home county, almost until the day of his death his work was political. He helped draft the Constitution of the United States and pleaded for its adoption by the various states with all the eloquence at his command.

Madison was Secretary of State under Jefferson and was elected President in 1808 and re-elected in 1812. He was so sure that the War of 1812 could not happen that he was unprepared when it did, and his administration during the war was pitifully weak. Political writers say that Madison was too much the scholar to be a strong leader in any crisis such as a war.

When he retired from the Presidency in 1817, he returned to his estate in Virginia, though he still remained politically active to a certain extent. He died in Virginia in 1836. His lavish hospitality had made great inroads into his fortune and his stepson, who grew up as a wild young man, according to biographers, took nearly all that was left. Madison had married a widow who was famous for her beauty.

Everyday Etiquette

"Please tell me what is the proper disposition of the napkin when one is visiting?" asked Fred.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Caused By Irritated Bladder, Relieved By Simple Remedy For This Dayton Man.

This letter was taken from the Dayton Daily News. Mr. Wm. D. Ostermeyer, 326 E. Second street, says: "My bladder caused me to get up many times at night and also inconvenienced me as often as every 30 minutes in the day. After taking a few lithiated buchu tablets my bladder is perfectly normal. They also relieved a very lame back for me. It gives me much pleasure to tell my friends about these little tablets."

Lithiated buchu acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom salts do on the bowels. It cleans them out. It is not a patent medicine, as the formula is on the package. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several high-priced drugs, which are necessary for prompt relief. Very likely you have never taken anything like this remedy. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high colored urine, frequent desire, gravel and other defects of the bladder.

You can get lithiated buchu, Keller formula, at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store and drug stores everywhere.

SPRING.

Now comes the end, my fellow-men, of winter, stern and bitter; the spring is coming once again, and merry birds will twitter, and joy will permeate each hen and cow and human critter. The winter has been mild and kind, no tempests raged severely, the elements all seemed inclined to treat us fair, or nearly; the frost king and his frigid kind were kept in limits, clearly. And so we have no kick to make about the season going, but oh, our buzzums fairly ache to see the green things growing, to skirmish with a spade or rake, or do some fancy hoing! The winter makes us feel our years, and fills our hearts with sorrow, and, though a balmy day appears, small comfort can we borrow, for we are always filled with fears of what may come tomorrow. "The northern sky grows grim and gray," we sigh, with grim foreboding, "and though the sun's on deck today, we have a fear corroding that Boreas will come our way, his tinhorn goods unloading." To all such fears spring gives release, the fears that used to bore us; we do not summon the police when clouds assemble o'er us; spring fills our jaded souls with peace, and places hope before us.

DIFFERENT SORTS OF VOICES In taking up any study of the voice, one of the first things to understand is the difference between voices, and which are the pleasing and which are the unpleasant sorts. When I speak of the quality of the voice, I mean the sort of voice. An elocution teacher has divided the various types in this way:

PURE	Normal
Ordinary	Enlarged
Enlarged	Very Low
Very Low	Intermittent

IMPURE
Breathy, Harsh, Raspy, Guttural, Improper use of Nose, Very High, Weak, thin, Nasal, Falsetto, Oral.

This same elocution teacher goes on to say that the pure voice is the natural voice for the expression of all pure sentiment. He says the voice should be always pure unless the sentiment expressed is so harsh, intense or violent that it disarranges the vocal organs. Ordinary sentiment, he says, is expressed by the normal voice. For this the throat should be open and flexible, the words easily and clearly pronounced.

All lofty or ennobling sentiment is expressed by the orotund voice which is only the normal voice enlarged and ennobled. The voice has a resonance given it by the head and chest and the vowels are sounded more prominently than in ordinary conversation.

What he called the pectoral voice is very low, the resonance comes from the lower part of the chest. It is used in reciting very solemn or supernatural passages. If you have seen "Hamlet" done by a good actor, you will remember the unusual quality of voice in the tragic scene.

The tremolo voice is used to express great joy, sorrow, fear or anger. The flow of voice is broken, the vowels are not uttered smoothly.

Brownie—if you had sent me a letter with a self-addressed stamp, I could have answered your questions more fully. You complain of sharp ankles, pimples, blackheads, dandruff, vermin, thinness, pains in the side when you run, bony wrists and flat feet. I am inclined to think that you have given the reason for all these ailments when you say that you do not have the right kind of food to eat and that you hardly ever go out doors. The food problem is one that you must find a way to solve. You cannot be healthy on bad foods. Can you not change the kind of food, so that you have more fruit and green things to eat and less heavy meats and starches?

For the rest, you must get enough sleep, eight or nine hours in a room with the windows wide open and you must get out doors for a little daily exercise. Can you not arrange your work so as to allow this?

Tell your friend who says that whenever he goes to sleep "something seems to grab him by the throat" that this may be due to nothing more serious than indigestion, and it may be due to some more serious nervous trouble. He should see a physician about it.

Easy For Thin People to Put on Flesh, Gain Weight

It's such an easy matter nowadays for thin, weak, scrawny people put on good, healthy, solid flesh and become plump and graceful that one often wonders why there are still so many people who seem to prefer to be "all skin and bone," ungainly and unpleasant to look upon.

Physicians have long known that whoever could discover a remedy that would cause the food that one puts into the stomach to turn into good, rich, flesh-making blood instead of going to waste, would also discover how to put healthy muscular flesh onto thin under-nourished people and this has now been accomplished.

If you are thin, underdeveloped, nervous, weak, or lack vigor and vitality, you can secure at any good pharmacy at moderate cost, a ten days' treatment of EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES, a new combination of flesh producing muscle building, strength creating elements that is guaranteed to put good, solid, lasting flesh on your body and to make you strong, healthy and vigorous or money back.

Physicians have watched the results of the Evans' Triple Phosphates treatment are astonished at its rapid action—often in a month five to ten pounds of desirable weight is gained. Sohn's Drug Store and Sayre and Hemphill have agreed to supply readers of this paper with Evans' Triple Phosphates and to guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money returned.

OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick

More Than 1,000,000 Now The outstanding feature of the eighth district conference of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs at Kent March 11 and 12 was the official announcement that the federation has now a membership of more than 1,000,000. This announcement was made by Mrs. William H. Sharp, Columbus, president of the state federation. In an address that captivated her hearers she told of the splendid work accomplished in all of the various departments of the state federation as well as by the local federations and individual clubs all over Ohio. During her conception of a club woman's duty as a citizen, she stated that "politics, like charity, begins at home," and added: "The time to begin community service is in the ballot box. See that your party secures good candidates. If our party does not put up the right kind, vote with the other party. This may not be good politics but it is good citizenship. We are a federation of more than 100,000 strong, and we must let our members know that we intend to have a people in office that will secure a city, state and nation the right kind of government." Mrs. Sharp elaborated somewhat on the fact at Ohio club women were behind the use bill No. 14 calling for better moving pictures in Ohio. Her remarks in this regard were supplemented by Miss Genevieve Cline, Cleveland, state federation legislative chairman, who said that many of the pictures today formed an incentive to crime. "There must be a change and it is upon the heads of the women of Ohio if this bill fails to become a law," Miss Cline declared.

The address of Hon. William G. Sharp, former ambassador to France, was the line feature of the entertainment program. This was the big highlight he imparted that all club women carried home with them: "France is founded on three pillars—religion, education and patriotism—and the people of France live all three in their everyday lives."

Three hundred and fifty-two delegates and guests attended the Kent convention, which was a real success. It was notable for the large number of state officers that it drew and for the brilliancy of its program.

In addition, no hostess city could have been more generous in its hospitality or more charming to its guests. State officers in attendance included Mrs. Sharp, the state president; Mrs. R. E. Mygatt, Cincinnati, treasurer; Mrs. John M. Henderson, Martins Ferry, recording secretary; Mrs. Connelug S. Selover, Cleveland, parliamentarian; Mrs. Charles L. Begin Right Now To Conquer Your Rheumatism

If you are going to again rely upon the liniment bottle to try to rub your Rheumatism away, you will be doomed again to nothing but disappointment. A disease that can cause so much pain and suffering is not on the surface of the skin, and cannot be rubbed away.

Many forms of Rheumatism are caused by a tiny disease germ in the blood, and in such cases the only logical treatment is to search out and remove these germs from the blood.

OBITUARY

Rachel Ann Ellis, daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth Murphy was born near New Hope Church in Greene County, Ohio, January 19, 1848. She passed to the better World from her home near Port William, Ohio, March 9th, 1921, aged 73 years, 1 month and 20 days. Her youth was spent in a Christian neighborhood and her life reflected the purity and goodness of her nature. She united in marriage with Joshua Ellis an honored soldier of the Civil war September 23, 1867, to this union were born two children, Harley B. and Veturah E., and to them each one child, Orville the Son of Harley B., and Nora the daughter of Veturah E.

"Annt Rachel" was loved best by those who knew her best. Her life was spent in making things pleasant for all with whom she came in contact, so how could we help but love her. She united with the M. P. Church at Port William, Ohio, in the winter of 1884 and lived the life of a Christian to the end. And when the end of all things mortal was near she met it with a smile. Surrounded by husband, children and grandchildren and friends she passed across so quietly that she was gone "while we watched."

DIES IN AMBULANCE

Dayton, O., March 15.—Touching a crowd which he carried to a wire on a transformer on the conspacy job this noon, George Manuel, 46, was so shocked that he died a few minutes later in the police ambulance.

Healthful Spine Overcomes Headaches

(Wednesday Health Talk No. 27)
(By G. C. DONOHOO, D. C., Ph. C.)

Headaches are from various causes. Sometimes the headache is due to indigestion, sometimes it is biliousness, sometimes it is traceable to female troubles, sometimes to a catarrhal condition. An adjustment quite frequently gives immediate relief but the cause cannot be removed in one adjustment.

Nervous headaches due to indigestion, for instance are quite often given immediate relief by an adjustment which frees the nerves in the region where the ache is felt, but the cause can only be removed by a series of adjustments calculated to restore a full degree of nerve impulse transmission into the stomach and liver, whose faulty action is the cause of such headaches. Getting rid of the headache (a symptom of something wrong) is not always getting rid of the cause. To get rid of the tendency to headaches, a series of adjustments is necessary.

WANTS OTHERS TO PROFIT

"I am writing this in hope that others may profit by my experience. I had nervous headaches, indigestion and inflammatory rheumatism, all of which every remedy I tried failed to relieve. Chiropractic spinal adjustments put me back on my feet and at work once more."—A. W. Carter, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 1253F.

The Height of Musical Joy

YOU get the height of musical joy when you hear a great living artist. But you get equal joy when you hear the same artist on the New Edison.

The proof of this is convincing, conclusive and concrete.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Convincing—for Mr. Edison himself said in a recent interview: "The emotional effects and consequent benefits of music are well known. Through the agency of my new phonograph, I can produce the same effects as would result from the original music."

Conclusive—for you can score, on a Mood Change Chart, the effects of the New Edison's realism on you. Come in and listen to this test of realism.

Concrete—for we will show a big book of proof, that there is no difference between RE-CREATED music and the original music. This proof would be good in any court of law.

CRIMINALS NO LONGER FEAR ELECTRIC CHAIR, SAYS WARDEN OF SING SING

Ossining.—One hundred and eighty have gone the way of "the chair" in Sing Sing Prison. Last year Seventeen walked the march of death through the "little green door." In the first two months of this year three more have paid the extreme penalty, and March was ushered in with another electrocution.

With the announcement of these figures, given in an interview to the International News Service recently Warden Lewis E. Lawes stated that fear of electrocution no longer exists in the criminal mind.

"Electrocution as at present carried out does not keep down the number of murders," he said in discussing the recent crime wave which has swept the country and has been attended by many wanton killings.

The list of murders has grown appallingly all over the country. Most of them have been committed, not for some great or fancied wrong, but in connection with hold-ups and petty robberies. The taking of life literally for a song. Warden Lawes stated that possibly this is due to an after the war condition. Certain it is that life is held cheaply now and to many of criminal instincts life is a cheap gamble and the electric chair is no longer a spectre to deter them from capital crimes.

Odds With Murder.
"The odds are all with the murderer in this gamble," said Warden Lawes. "The percentage of those actually executed is so small compared to the number of murders committed that capital punishment falls as a deterrent."

"Here is another astounding fact," said Warden Lawes. "The majority of men who now occupy the death house have not been previously confined in prison." Life, indeed has become a cheap gamble.

In fact, there now exists a spirit of bravado such as never before has been manifest. A typical instance of this was shown not so long ago when five condemned men were put to death at Sing Sing in a space of little over an hour, passing one after the other into the death chamber.

New Spirit of Bravado
"Give her the gas—turn on the juice," said one of the men as he was strapped into the chair.

At Sing Sing where all electrocutions for New York State are now carried out the toll of lives in exacting the extreme penalty is higher than in any other prison in the country because of the large State population. But in many of the thirty States which have capital punishment the stout oaken chair with its electrodes and straps has worked overtime in recent months. An in all of them electrocutions are carried out in practically the same manner.

No "New Improvements."
Science has made wonderful progress in recent years in prolonging life, new serums and anti-toxins have been discovered and surgery has advanced to an unmarked degree, but the method of taking life remains the same.

"Electrocution was introduced in this state nearly thirty years ago," said Warden Lawes, "but the chair today is the same as it has always been. Except for the amount of current used and the length of the contact there has been no change. In former years, 1,500 volts were used the same methods. From the time the contact is given until pronounced dead by the physician, the average is eight minutes. The first contact is for a period of one minute and fifteen seconds. The second is usually for five seconds. From the time the first contact is applied the man is entirely unconscious. Care is taken to prevent burning and defacement, else the execution could be accomplished more quickly.

"Let me say, however," said Warden Lawes, "that to those in charge of carrying out the mandate of capital punishment it is indeed a most disagreeable duty. To those who must enforce the law it is one topic usually avoided."

"I believe that in time capital punishment will be abolished."

All Use Same Methods
"All prisons are using practically

COURT NEWS

A verdict favoring the defendant was returned by a petit jury in Common Pleas Court Tuesday afternoon, in the damage suit of Timothy Mangin against Cal and Carrie Clark.

The suit was the outgrowth of an automobile accident some time ago, and was heard before Judge R. L. Gowdy starting Tuesday morning. Frank L. Johnson of this city was attorney for the plaintiff while Marcus Choup, of Xenia, and Dan Nevin of Dayton were attorneys for the defendant. The jury consisted of Howard Applegate, foreman, D. Cameron Bickett, C. E. Conwell, W. A. Corn, Frank Street, J. W. Faulkner, C. H. Little, D. D. Dell, J. W.

Swadener, W. S. Hopping, W. E. Alexander, and S. M. Murdock.

Action Reaches Higher Court
Ervin Bros., and Davis are plaintiffs in an action against E. C. Stewart and Charles H. Russell, for damages in the sum of $55, the transcript of which was filed with Clerks of Courts C. S. Johnson, from the Court of J. E. Jones Justice of the Peace.

Seek to Transfer Funds

A petition to transfer certain money from one fund to another, was filed with Clerk of Courts C. S. Johnson Tuesday by J. Kenneth Williamson, attorney for the Board of Trustees of Silvercreek township. On March 5, the board passed the resolution to transfer $1,300 from the general fund and $400 from the poor fund to the road fund, the last named fund being almost depleted and more money needed, while there is more money than needed in the other two funds. The Board now seeks the authority of the Court in making the transfer.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

PACKED CHURCH LISTENS TO WORDS OF LOCAL PREACHER

The people of Xenia have shown large interest in the revival services being conducted by Rev. G. A. Scott, at the Methodist Episcopal Church on West Second Street, if the size of the crowd that attended Tuesday night's service is to be taken for an example. Members of all the city churches swayed the audience at each evening meeting and have proven the first of the revival a success. Greatly adding to the unusual feature of the revival is the presence of Mr. Hackleman of Indianapolis, who with colored slides depicts the importance of song in arousing the enthusiasm of an audience.

A large screen on the curtain dividing the Sunday School room, and the assembly room of the church, affords the showing of slides that illustrate the songs chosen by Mr. Hackleman for each service. The choir under Mr. Hackleman's direction has been chosen from the best talent of the congregation.

Taking for his topic, "Life," Rev. G. M. Scott at the revival Tuesday night, declared in his interesting sermon, "The greatest wealth that any one possesses is life itself." Warning to his subject with a vigor that won his hearers, Rev. Scott declared, "Life! What shall we do with it? We are not to squander life but make the best possible use of it. We are not to be faithful stewards over what God intrusted to our keeping. He demands of us that we may increase it and receive for ourselves a reward. If we do not do so use it then we shall lose it and receive for ourselves condemnation."

"We ought constantly to improve the quality and increase the size of our characters. Life in this world at the longest is very brief, and no part of it should be wasted. We have no time for making experiments with life in the effort to find out what we can do. In this day we shake the snows of a few winters off our shoulders, weed the flowers of a few summers bloom and then God says: 'You are thorough, the time is up. Come. If we have just been trying to find out what we could do and have done nothing, so much the worse for us and for the world we have lived in.'"

Mr. Hackleman gave Tuesday night preliminary to the sermon, an illustrated scripture service entitled, "The Good Shepherd." Bayless Thompson, member of the choir, read the scripture while Mr. Hackleman commented upon the slides shown.

The illustrated solo of the evening was, "The Ninety and Nine," words by Mrs. Clephow, and music by the late Ira D. Sankey.

Mr. Sankey found the words in a newspaper, while riding on the train through England. Moody called on him unexpectedly to sing a solo just after he had preached on "The Good Shepherd," and Mr. Sankey placed the little poem in his organ and sang the tune Mr. Hackleman used Tuesday night. Sankey always claimed the tune came by inspiration from a Higher Power.

Wednesday night Mr. Hackleman gives his first picture study. Correggio's "Holy Night" which was painted 400 years ago. A solo "No Room for Jesus" will also be given by Mr. Hackleman.

LOSES NO SLEEP WHEN EMPLOYER KISSES HIS WIFE

Waukegan, Ills., March 16—Just because he happened to see his employer kissing his wife, was no reason why Raymond Clark, of Grays Lake St. D., should lose any sleep. Clark testified at the trial of his $50,000 alienation suit against Wilmer Brewer, wealthy bachelor, farmer that he tiptoed to the head of the stairs and saw Brewer kissing Mrs. Clark. Clark said he went quietly back to bed and was asleep in two minutes.

CHANGE OF MEETING PLACE OF OHIO AUTO BODY POPULAR HERE

Members of the Greene County Automobile Club and all other auto owners in this city, will be pleased with the recent action of the board of trustees of the Ohio State Automobile Association in changing the place of the annual state convention from Youngstown to Cincinnati.

The convention will be staged April 22 and 23, and with the convention scene laid much closer to Greene County than it was formerly, it is expected that many more motorists from this county will attend its sessions. The change of place came about through the desire of the Cincinnati Motor Club, the new organization of motorists in that city, and this Club secured the consent of the Youngstown club to relinquish its claim on the state gathering. This was the third time the Youngstown Club has relinquished its claim to the state convention after it had been awarded to that club.

The sessions of the convention will be held at the Hotel Sinton and it is expected that there will be between 700 and 800 delegates in attendance on the basis of representation of one to each 50 members of every automobile club in the state. There are now sixty clubs affiliating with the State Association comprising a total membership of 50,000 or more, of which number 13 clubs came into the organization since the last convention held in Zanesville in 1920. The new clubs are: Huron County Automobile Club, Norwalk; Portsmouth Automobile Club, Lancaster; Northern Perry County Automobile Club, Glenford; Darke County Automobile Club, Greenville; Oxford Automobile Club, Champane County Automobile Club, St. Paris; Twin City Motor Club, Roseville; Cambridge Automobile Club, Montgomery County Automobile Club, Dayton; Cincinnati Motor Club, Fostoria Automobile Club and Greene County Automobile Club, Xenia.

Officers of the Ohio State Automobile Association and its auxiliary body, the Ohio Good Roads Board, will have a number of reports to present at the convention that will be interesting to local motorists.

NUMBER OF MOTOR VEHICLES IN U. S. INCREASES 22 P. C.

A total of 9,211,295 motor cars including commercial vehicles were registered last year in the 48 states and District of Columbia, according to figures compiled by the Bureau of Public Roads of United States Department of Agriculture in a study of revenue available for road-building purposes. There were also registered a total of 235,146 motorcycles. The registration and license fees, including those for chauffeurs operators and dealers amounted to $102,034,106.26. As compared with 1919, the data for 1920 represent an increase of 22 percent or 1,645,849 motor cars. This increase alone lacks but 4 per cent of being equal to the total registrations of the United States six years ago.

In 1920 in the State of New York alone, the number of motor cars registered, including commercial vehicles exceeded the total cars registered in the whole of the United States in 1910. Furthermore the revenues derived from a registration in the State of New York in 1920 were about equal to the entire registration revenues of the United States for 1913.

The use made of the revenues has changed with the passing of years. In 1906 the total registrations were approximately 48,000 cars, paying a gross revenue of about $193,000. (Arizona in 1920 paid approximately this amount.) In 1906 the gross registration revenues were equal to less than three-tenths of 1 per cent of the total rural road and bridge expenditures for that year.

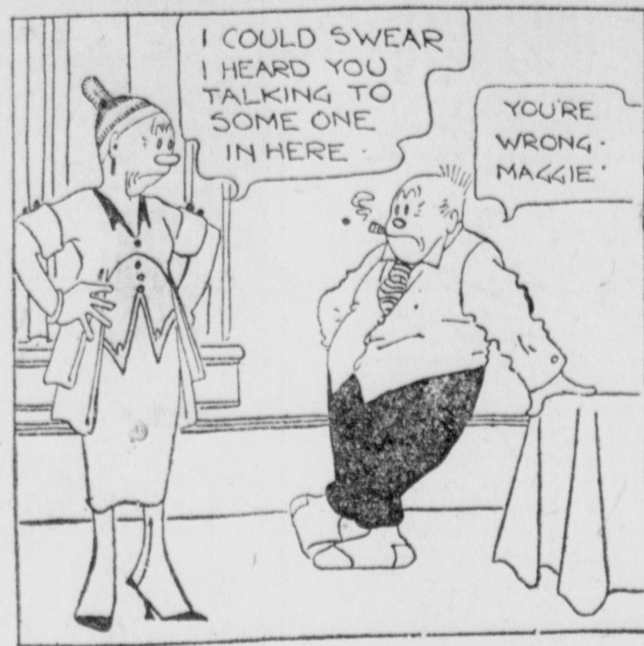

The registration revenues in 1920 were equal to about 25 per cent of the total rural road and bridge expenditures for the calendar year 1919. In 1906 practically none of the motor vehicle revenues was applied to road maintenance or construction, while in 1920, 96 per cent, or a total of $97,997,160.60, was used for this purpose. The remaining 4 per cent not applied to road work was expended very largely for number plates and in carrying out the provisions of the motor vehicle registration laws in the several states. Of the total amount applied to road work, 79 per cent, or $77,531,532.57 was expended under the control or supervision of the several State Highway Departments. Increasing Amount Spent For Road Work.

For a number of years the general tendency toward devoting an ever increasing portion of the motor vehicle revenues to road work under the control and direct supervision of the State Highway Department has been very noticeable. Prior to 1912 only a very small portion of the motor vehicle registration was devoted to this purpose. In 1920 76 per cent of the revenue or $77,531,532.57 was applied to road work under the direct supervision of the State Highway Departments and in addition $20,465,578.04 was applied to road work by counties or other local supervision but with little or no direct supervision from the State Highway Departments.

In most States the motor-vehicle revenues are devoted to maintenance and repair of the State roads or other improved highways. These States seem to have solved fairly well the difficult problem of securing funds for the maintenance of the more important roads under the ever increasing traffic requirements. As both the traffic and revenues increase with the number of cars, there apparently exists a possibility of so adjusting the registration rates as to keep pace with the ever-growing maintenance charges.

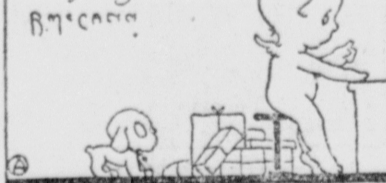

A number of the States having in general but a small mileage of improved roads have recently adopted the plan of capitalizing the motor vehicle revenues and devoting these funds to road construction. The States doing this are Illinois, Maine, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, Utah and Wyoming. In these States bonds have been voted or issued for road construction and the principal, in some instances also

FOR MEATLESS DAYS.
Combination Salmon Salad—Use one pound can salmon, three hard-boiled eggs, two heads good, firm lettuce, one small can peas and one-half cucumber.

Mince the salmon lightly with a fork, cut the lettuce into fine shreds and mix both together lightly, then add the peas freed from all moisture and decorate with finely sliced cucumber and egg cut into rings.

Served with mayonnaise, this salad is very fine. Place on lettuce leaves. This quantity makes sixteen portions.

Salmon With Macaroni—Pick one can of salmon into small pieces. Make one pint of ordinary white sauce. Put a layer of boiled macaroni broken into inch lengths in the bottom of baking dish, next a layer of sauce, then a layer of salmon, continuing until dish is filled. Sauce should come last and be sprinkled with buttered crumbs. Bake until brown.

TESTED RECIPES.
Baked Bean Salad—Take two cups of cold, baked beans with a quarter cup of the pork, diced. Add a cup of chopped celery, and toss in a French dressing made of one part oil, one part vinegar and one part catsup. The juice of an onion, salt, pepper, a teaspoonful of sugar and a tablespoon of chopped gherkins. Serve in green lettuce leaves and garnish with brown bread toast fingers.

Cheese Fingers—Add two tablespoons grated cheese to the paste, divide into finger shaped strips, and bake more thoroughly than when to be opened and filled. If additional cheese is desired it may be sprinkled on after baking.

Cheese Relish—Spread bread which has been toasted or fried in deep fat with grated cheese, or with grated cheese mixed with a little mustard, then heat in oven until the cheese is melted. This may be served with salad or as a relish to give flavor to some dish, such as boiled rice or hominy which has no very marked flavor.

Potatoes and Cheese—To one-half cup scalded milk add two cups rice potatoes and beat until light and creamy. Add one teaspoon of salt, a dash of paprika and two well beaten eggs. Add one cup of grated cheese and mix thoroughly. Pour into buttered muffin tins and bake in a slow oven.

Vinegar Cake—Six whites of eggs with one and one-half cups sugar beaten stiff; six yolks of eggs with three teaspoons vinegar, one and one-half cups flour, one teaspoon orange flavoring.

Beat the eggs and fold together with the flour, but do not beat after mixing. Bake in a slow oven in a cake tin with a stem in the center.

Use a white boiled icing made of white of one egg-beaten with about two tablespoons sugar. Boil one cup sugar with a little water until it hairs from a spoon, then beat into the egg mixture.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

DICK DECIDES TO GO IT ALONE

It sound terribly heartless but when the story upon which Dick and Juanita had spent weeks of work was returned by no less than five editors I could not help feeling glad—although I took great pains not to show it. In fact I was sympathetic.

It had a peculiar effect upon Dick. The rejection of any work invariably depressed him for a time, but this turn down seemed to dishearten him altogether. One editor had said the plot was a "good one, but the treatment childish, uninteresting, ordinary." It was the same editor who had bought the previous story, which in a way accounted for Dick's disappointment.

"Do cheer up, Dick! You can't expect to write successes all the time," I tried to encourage. He had been either very silent, or cross as could be for days past. "You haven't spoken a pleasant word to me since that story came back. Don't take it so to heart."

"I guess I am pretty much of a grouch, Nan. But somehow I felt so sure Hapgood would take it. He spoke so very flatteringly in his letter about the other one." Hapgood was the name of the editor who had taken Dick's serious story.

"You wrote that alone," I could not help the reminder.

"I know!—and Nan, I guess I shall have to write alone. It worries me to have to tell Juanita so. Especially since she has given me several ideas that I am sure I can work up."

Dick went over to—Juanita's soon after our talk. He came back smiling.

"Well?" I asked, wondering.

"She was a brick. When I told her that I would have to work out my ideas in my own way, that I could not collaborate, she was bully. Offered to help me in any way she could, and even said she would efface herself permanently if necessary to my success."

I could not help thinking how simple Dick was. He repeated things Juanita said to him with all the naïveté of a child. Yet I knew she still held a strong attraction for him one not easily to be broken.

At times it seemed as if my punishment for what I had done in those past years was more than I could bear—even more than I deserved. Then I would picture Dick as he was when I first met him, and when I married him. Full of life and fun. Honest, faithful. Then I would think of him as he was when we left New York—broken, old ready and willing to pass out by his hand because of the ruin of his life—the ruin I had wrought. It was during such reminiscences that I felt no punishment was undeserved, no sacrifice too great for him.

I was doing remarkably well in my work. I now had a sizable bank account and often refused to contract for homes that would take me away from Dick. Although he was so busy writing (and spending his leisure hours with Juanita) that I am not at all sure he would have missed me had I. We had a capable maid, and Junior was doing well in school. Had Dick loved me—or had I been able to believe he did, I should have been perfectly happy.

One day we had a talk about our finances. He had insisted upon running the house, et cetera. He was making money now—had sold two stories since he refused to work with Juanita—and he declared I had done my share while he was getting "whipped into harness."

"But, Dick, I want to keep on," I pleaded. "You see dear, it is perhaps a woman's place to keep the home. But I do not take that attitude. I feel that so long as the home is kept as well as the wife herself could keep it if she can earn money at something more congenial it should be her privilege to use part of what she earns to pay for what she would ordinarily do herself."

We finally compromised. Dick was to pay the interest on the mortgage, and buy all the food. I would pay for the maid, and the various improvements, et cetera. It was an equitable division, and I was very happy over it. Then too it made Dick feel better. I had realized that he often felt belittled because of the necessity for using my earnings, and that he sometimes might have been a bit hurt because I earned more than he did. This settlement would prevent anything of the sort.

"What about Junior?" Dick had asked. Up to this time I had paid all his bills.

"Let me attend to him."

"No! I will pay his tuition and dress him. You may give him his spending money, but don't spoil him."

Tomorrow—Juanita Boasts.

The Vatican at Rome Recommends Nuxated Iron

If you lack BODILY or MENTAL VIGOR; If you are WEAK; NERVOUS or IRRITABLE, TRY NUXATED IRON TODAY.

Nuxated Iron CONTAINS ORGANIC IRON LIKE THE IRON IN YOUR BLOOD AND LIKE THE IRON IN SPINACH, LENTILS AND APPLES.

NUXATED IRON also contains a remarkable product, brought to the attention of the French Academy of Medicine by the celebrated Dr. Robin, which represents the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force FOR FEEDING THE NERVES, so that NUXATED IRON might be said to be both a BLOOD and a NERVE FOOD.

THERE ARE 30,000,000,000 RED BLOOD CORPUSCLES in your blood and each one must have iron.

Today about one person out of every three is said to suffer more or less from the great debilitating weakness brought on by malnutrition or lack of sufficient nourishment; which is caused NOT BY LACK OF FOOD but often by LACK OF SUFFICIENT ORGANIC IRON in the blood to enable us to GET THE STRENGTH OUT of our food.

IRON IS THE MASTER PRINCIPLE OF THE BLOOD AND BLOOD IS LIFE. Our forefathers ate the husks of grains and the skins and peels of vegetables and fruits, rich in strength-giving organic iron, but modern methods of cooking throw all these things away—hence the alarming increase, in recent years, in Anemia—iron starvation of the blood with all its attendant ills.

When, as a result of iron starvation, you get up feeling tired in the morning, when you find yourself nervous, irritable and easily upset; when you can no longer do your day's work without being all fagged out at night; when your digestion all goes wrong, or you have pains across the back, shortness of breath, heart palpitation or your face looks pale and drawn, do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration, or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but consult your family physician and have him take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood count" of your red blood corpuscles or test the iron-power of your blood yourself by adding plenty of spinach, carrots, or other iron-containing fruits and vegetables to your daily food and take organic iron—Nuxated Iron—with them for a while and see how much your condition improves. Thousands of people have surprisingly increased their strength, energy and endurance in two weeks time by this simple experiment.

But be sure the iron you take is organic Nuxated Iron and not metallic iron which people usually take and which is made merely by the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron—an entirely different iron from Nuxated Iron. The fact that you may have taken metallic iron without receiving any benefit does not prove that Nuxated Iron will not help you. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly concentrated form that one dose is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating
